During our lives we pass things by, but the memories live forever.

'Dear 'Diary

'Well, school's back in again and some of us were a little more anxious than others to get back to work. But school isn't all hard work, for we'll look back and remember the good times we shared with our friends. For instance Slave Day, when a certain K.C. donated a large sum of money to the "Boys" jar to give the boys of the school a day of pleasure. The girls had to do such things as carrying books upstairs, to carrying their "masters" up flights of stairs.

Bench Warmers.

String 'em up.

Give it to her.

Are you two related?

Rejected!

"Thanks boys!"

School shall always remain in the land of memories.

Another part of school we will always remember are the field trips. It's a chance for us to escape from school for a few hours, learn about a piece of the world around us and have some fun. These times make school seem less boring and being around our friends makes the day not seem as long. Some of us have real close friends, while others have friends that are real close! Well, as long as we have a good time, right?

Take a closer look.

Sticking it out.

The new fad.

Will she bounce!

Say sex!

Friends will share many things but the friendship itself is always the best.

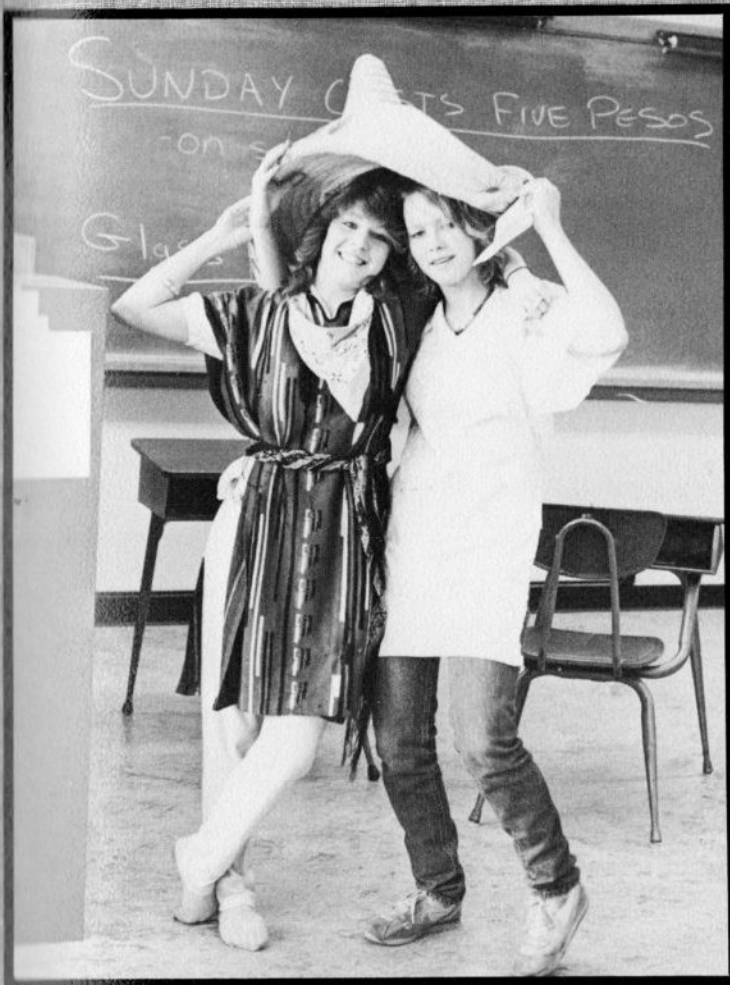

Who are they trying to fool?

School activities have started again and many different people are joining many different clubs. Crazy and serious students can be seen everywhere goofing around and being mischievous. This is a great time for friends. Extra-curricular activities make school interesting and enjoyable. This is where we let our real talents and initiative come through. (Unfortunately, we don't have an arm wrestling club!)

... and do the Hokey Pokey ...

Tijuana Girls.

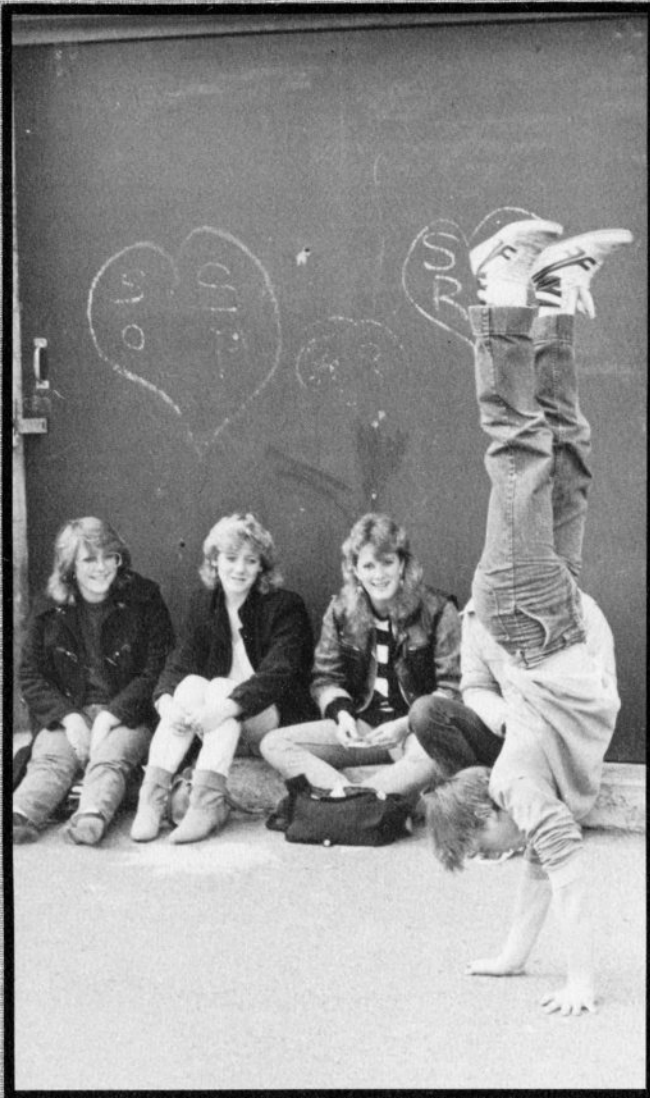

Strength at arms.

Ebony and Ivory.

What is school without friends?

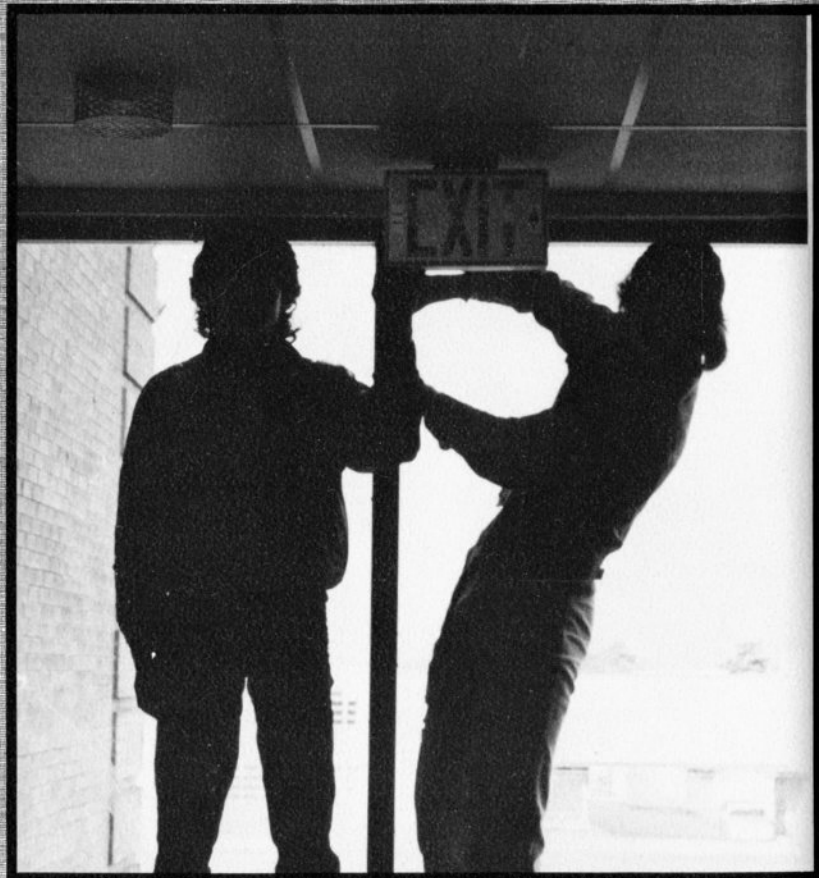

Friends and school go together like ham and eggs. They make learning a fun experience. Goofing around is lots of fun especially between classes and at lunch time. Everywhere you go you can see boy friends, girl friends and teacher friends. You can always find a smiling face rain or shine. If it wasn't for friends, school would be quite unbearable.

Head over heels in love!

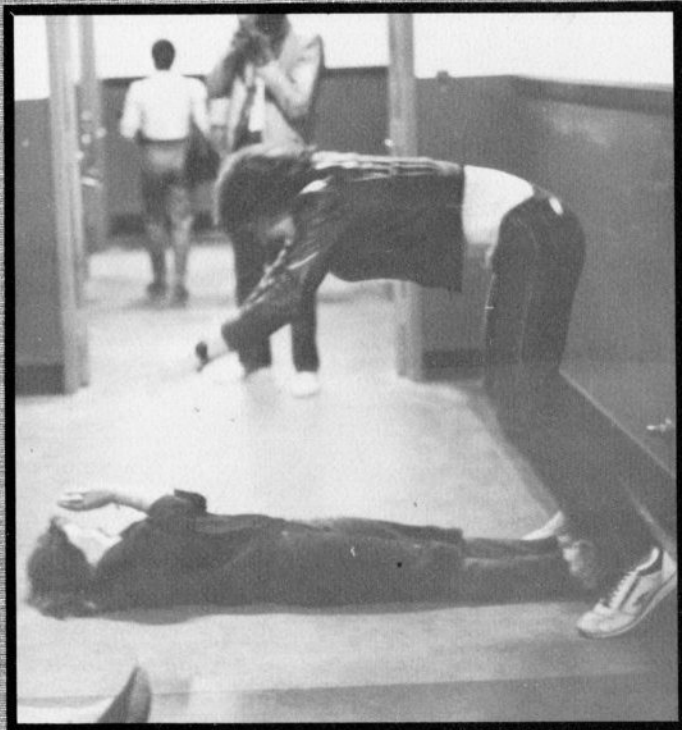

Friends until the end.

Silhouettes!

Hamming it up.

Simon says, "Stop!"

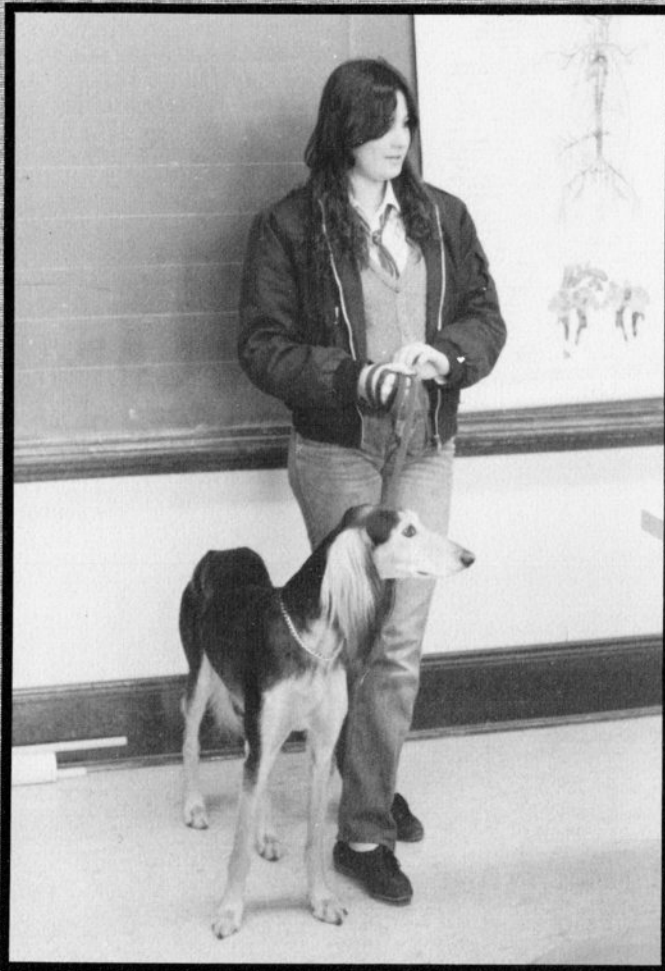

Just enjoying life!

Getting away from it all.

Friendship is the most fun you can have.

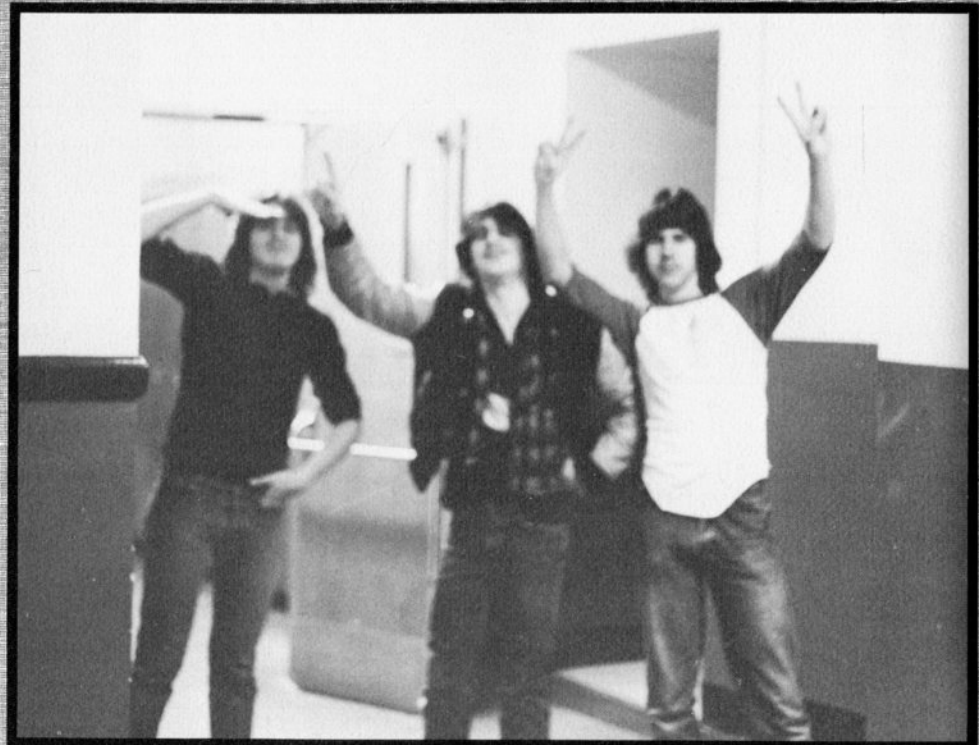

Best Friends.

We all have different kinds of friends. Some are of different size, shape, sex and even of different species. Vic High is very unique, in that to come here you don't have to dress a certain way or have a particular hairstyle like other schools some of us know of. You can come to school and just be yourself; everyone is individualistic and has his own style of doing things. For this reason our school has the widest variety of people in the city.

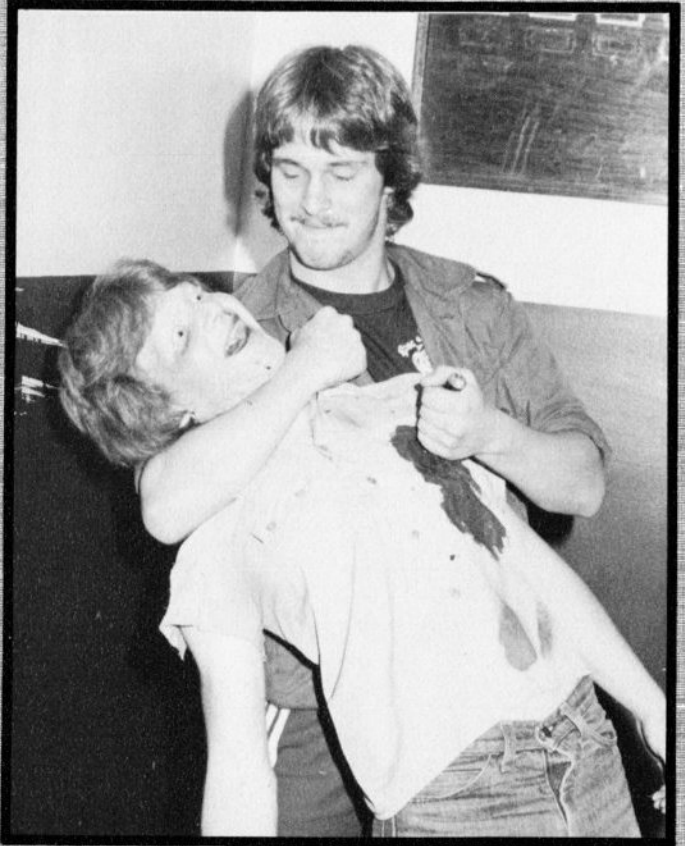

Hangin' Out.

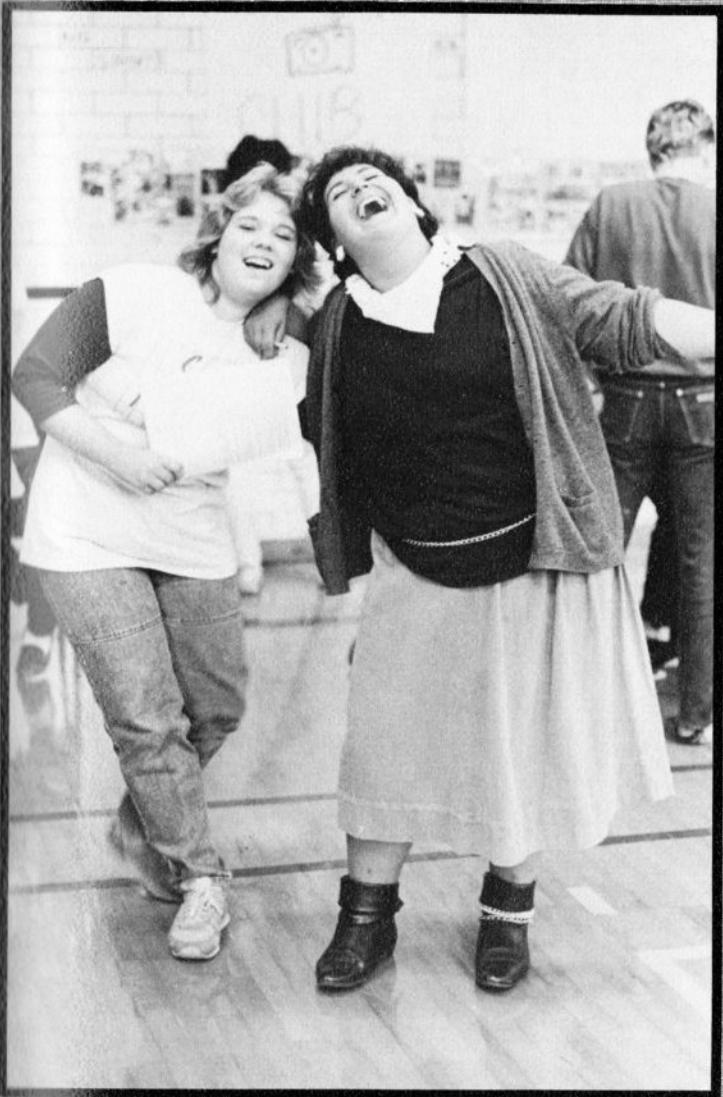

Peace-makers.

Wrestling hold of the year!

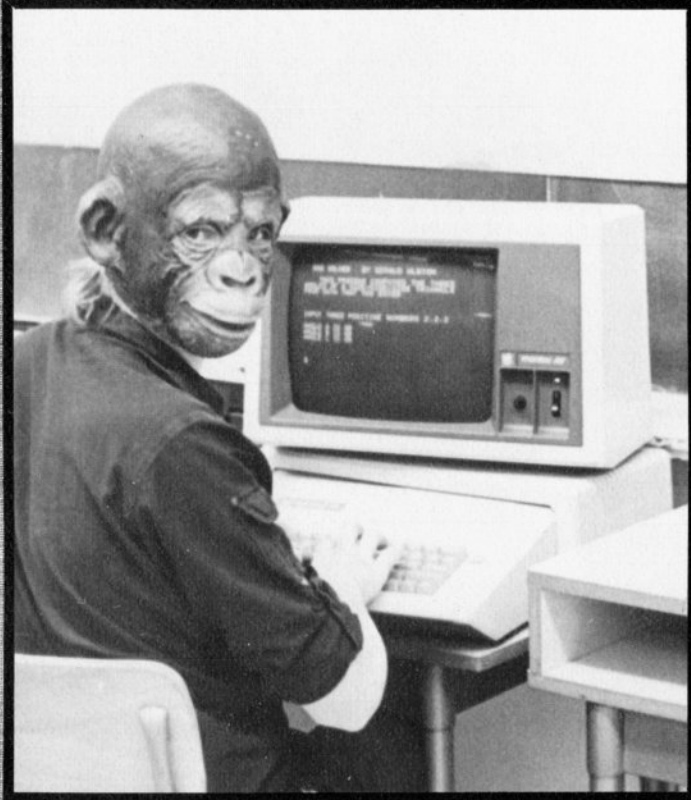

One less student.

Getting carried away.

Siamese Twins!

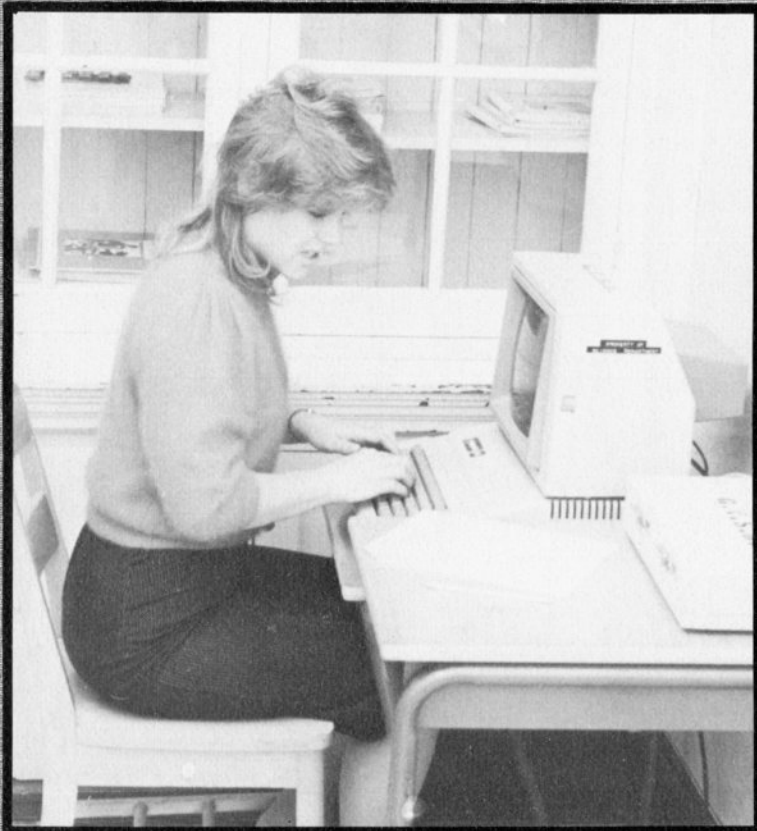

Learning is a life-long process.

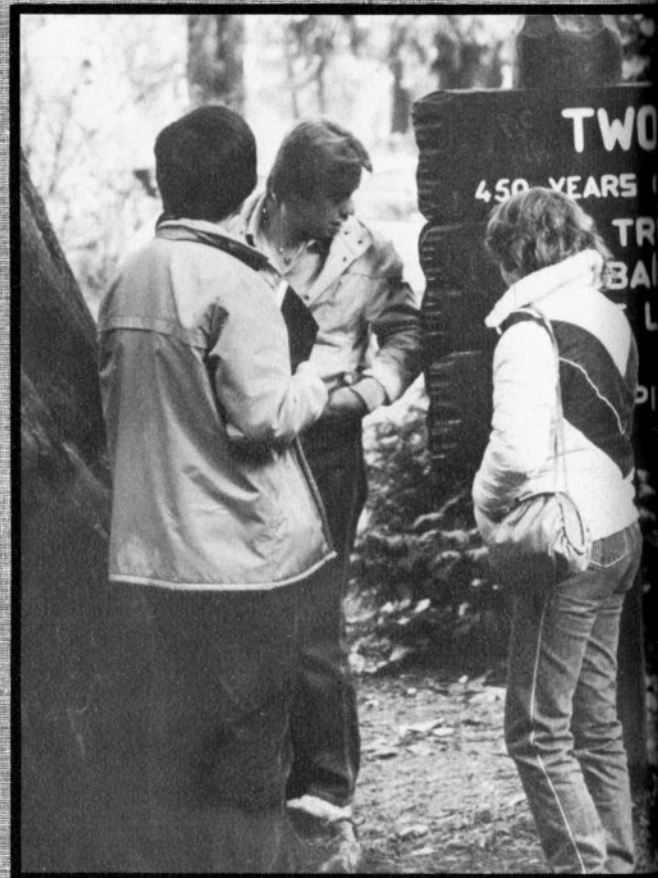

Monkey Business.

"Coffee, tea or me?"

Computer Blues.

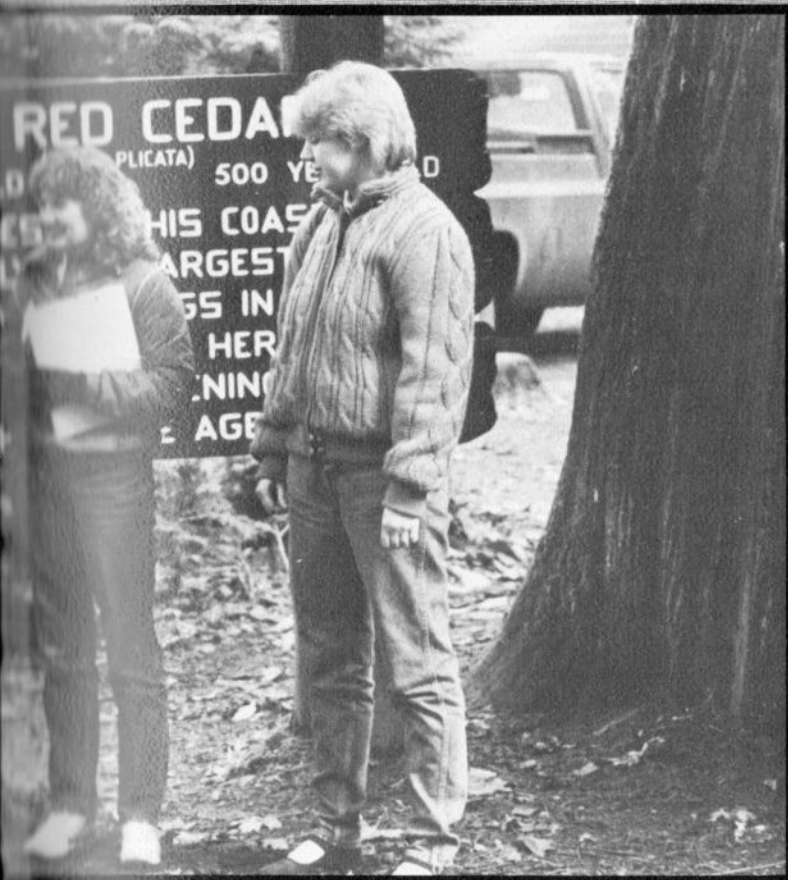

Our school offers many interesting courses such as, Native Art, Cafeteria and Computer Science (however frustrating it may be!) We do have a fairly low number of students here; however, it allows those of us interested in certain courses more help and attention. This leaves us much more time to practice and complete certain tasks and skills. These practical skills may take all our lives to develop and this is a good place to start.

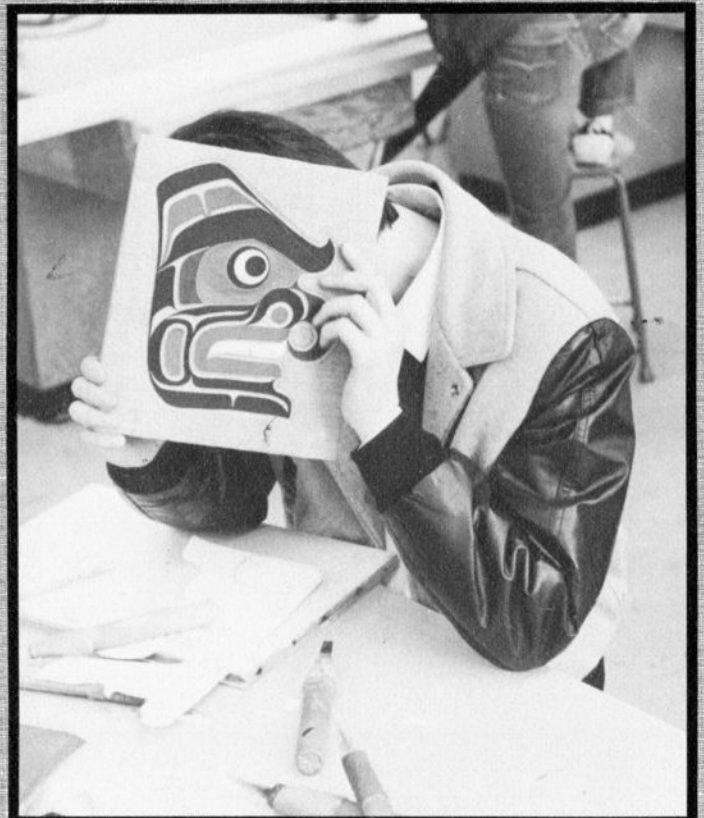

Smile!

They won't fit.

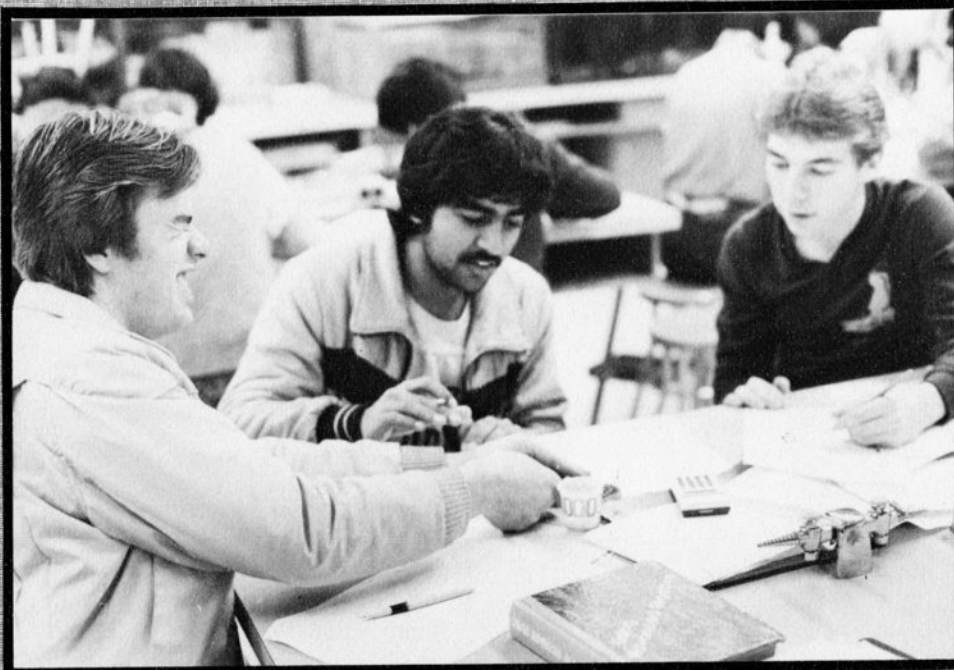

Rooting around!

Woodhead!

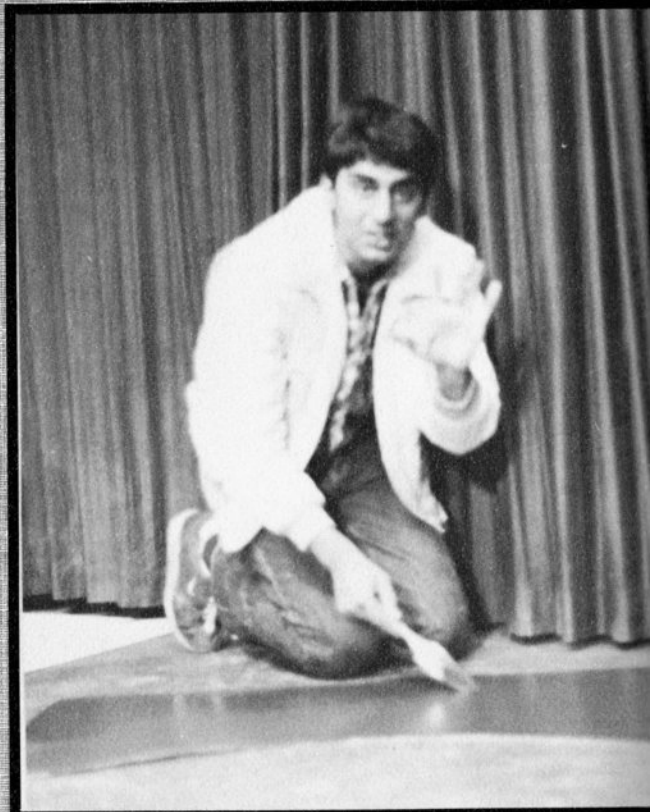

Will there ever be an end to homework?

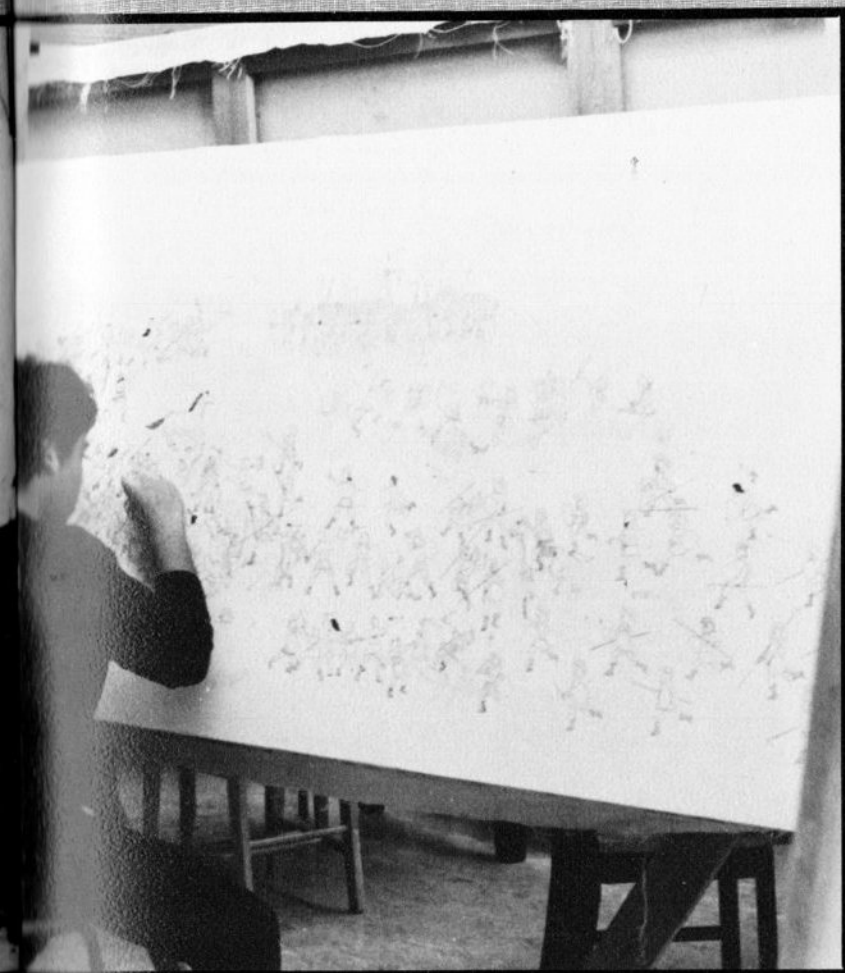

"Can I look now?"

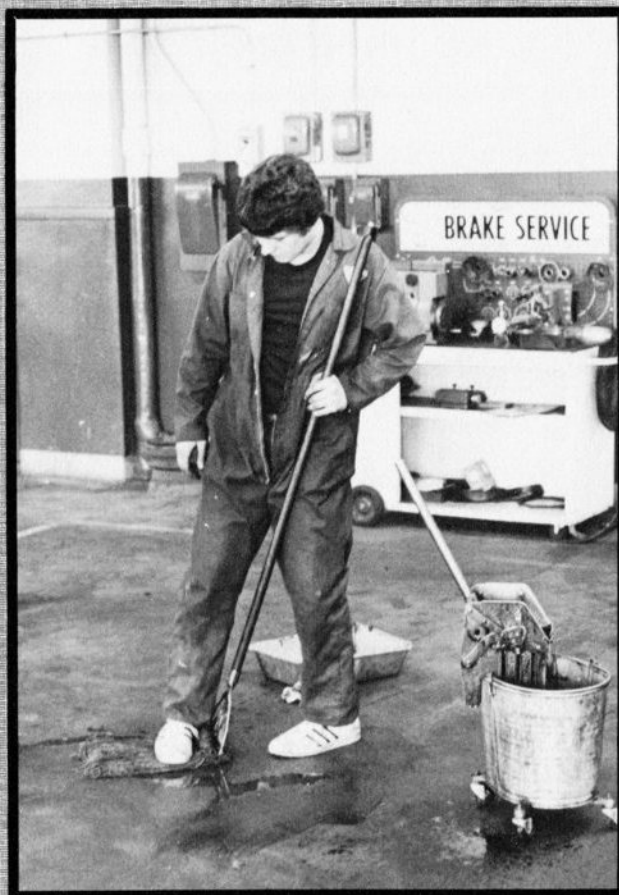

Happy Valentine's Day to you, too!

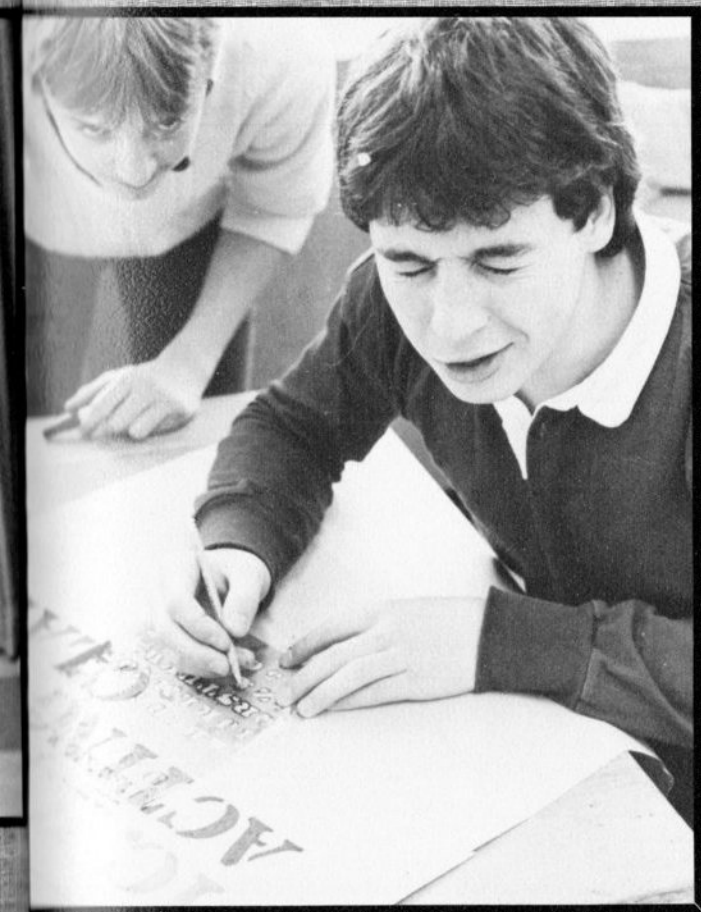

Fingerpainting.

War of the Worlds.

Moping around.

"Eye can't see!"

Simon says, "Touch your nose."

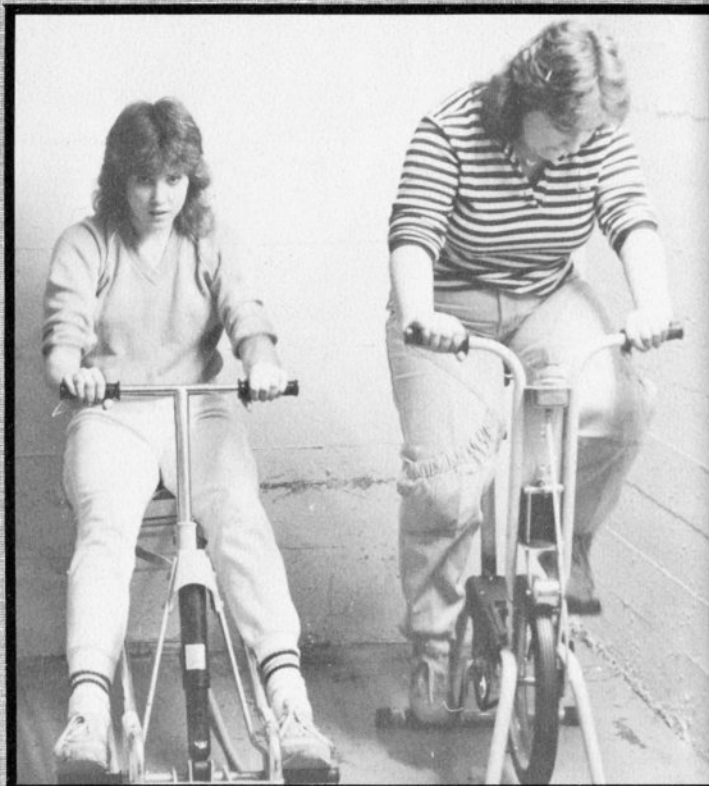

If you think 8:30 to 2:30 is bad, wait until you start 9 to 5.

No sweat!

Crunch!

Tiresome Twosome.

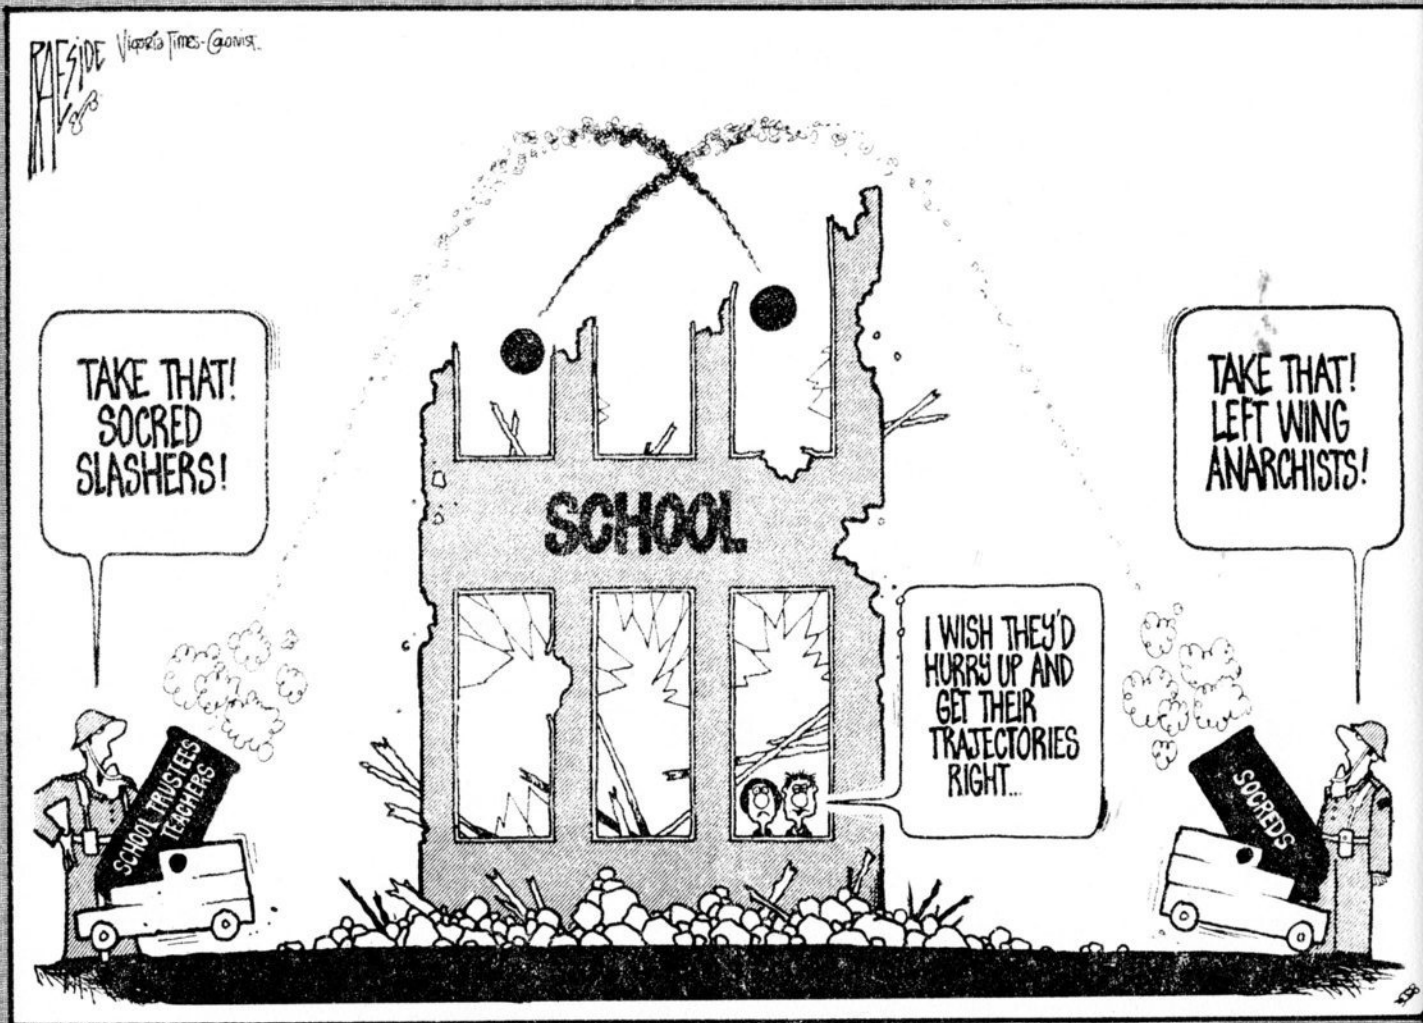

They'll be there 'til they get it right!

Crazy Glue bonds almost anything.

Island boards join restraint defiance

This year we, as well as many other schools, entered the fourth year of government cutbacks. These cutbacks, which are being forced on us, not only affect our rights as students, but teachers' rights too. This is a great threat to the quality of our education, as the government wants to drop many courses in the coming years. Many courses such as Art, Shops, Band and Drama are being eliminated. Some of us who are graduating this year feel that these cutbacks haven't affected us yet and never will; well, they just might. If we plan to go to college or university, we'll feel the effects of cutbacks there too. Our entire school system is at risk, so some of the school body, along with other high school and university students made up protest signs and held a rally at the Parliament Buildings. No one really knows if it did any good, but at least we showed our government that we do care about what happens to our public school system. Personally, I think one way or another we will always get the short end of the stick.

Students' Revolt!

TIMES-COLONIST

VIC HIGH student Leah Blackwood holds sign at Centennial Square.

"They may have a point"

Vic High cares.

VANCOUVER (CP) — The provincial government's "misplaced priorities" are going to doom education to mediocrity and a royal commission should be appointed to study the system and its funding, Vancouver alderman and teacher George Puil said Sunday.

Puil, a teacher for some 30 years and a supporter of the Social Credit government on most issues, joined other speakers at the Queen Elizabeth Theatre to outline concerns by Vancouver area parents to the government's restraint program and its effects on education.

"We have misplaced priorities in B.C. and it's about time they stopped," Puil told an audience of about 1,200, which filled less than half of the 2,800-seat theatre. "We need an objective royal commission to look at education and education financing."

Puil quoted figures he said showed spending by the province on education ranked it last among all provinces. He said the amount of money spent per capita on education in B.C. was $459 for each student, compared to $990 in Quebec, $547 in Ontario, and the national average of $696.

Many students attended and dozens of students and parents carried placards protesting cutbacks in education funding.

The principal reason for being here.

Principal's Message

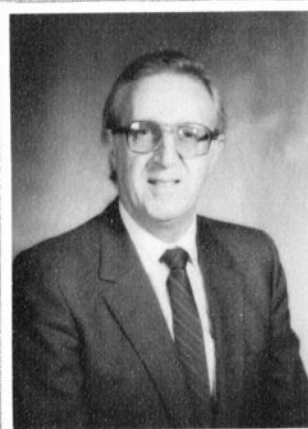

On behalf of the staff and students, I would like to congratulate the annual staff for producing this fine record of another memorable year in the long life of Victoria High School. In particular I would especially like to praise the excellence of the "Main Man" — Mr. Bruce Chan. For fourteen years he has sponsored and guided the production of the yearbook. His dedication is truly an honorable record!

Many of you will soon leave the protection of your school and attempt to make your place in the adult world. Remember that your success or failure will depend more on your interrelationships with others than on any other single factor. I wish you well.

Well, I guess the inevitable was bound to happen; the year's over and it seems like it's just begun.

Being president for the year was quite an experience. With all the activities and events, it was a pleasure having the aid of the Student's Council and sponsors, who helped so much!

I'd like to thank Mrs. Egan and Mr. Camp for their support and special thanks to Asha and Robyn as well as Mr. Lowther, for making my job easier.

My advice to the future presidents is make the BEST of your year, because it goes by quickly.

Thanks for making my years at Vic High memorable ones and I wish you all the best in the years to come.

Teachers were students . . . once themselves.

Mr. J. Chell: Mr. Chell likes travelling and photography and if he didn't teach at Vic High, he would be an engineer because it involves a practical application of math and involves working with people. Mr. Chell's ideal punishment for a student is ten strokes of the lash and two months hard labour. (What a softie!)

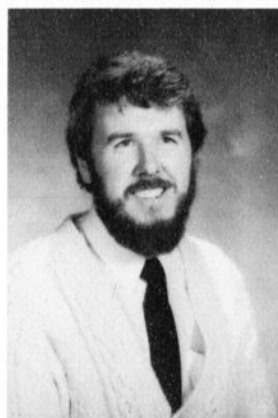

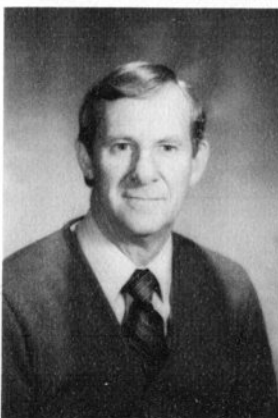

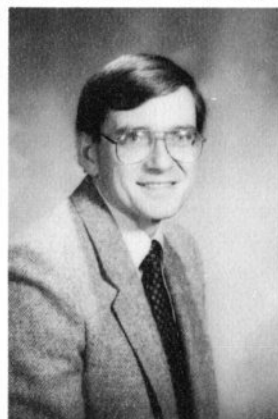

Mr. W. Dilay: Mr. Dilay teaches English and Life Skills and counsels the Special Education people. He is in charge of the Vic High lottery foundation and enjoys fishing. (Is there really other fish in the sea?)

Mr. C. Nesmith: Mr. Nesmith enjoys reading, travelling and music and if given another chance at an occupation he would have chosen a lawyer. The subjects that this teacher teaches are History 12, Social Studies 10/11 and although he can't think of any really good excuses, his ideal punishment is two years, less a day, at Oak Bay School.

Mr. G. Norman: Mr. Norman teaches Math 10 and Sp. Math and his hobbies are reading, drawing and painting. If he could have been anything else, he would have been a banker for millionaires. (In B.C., with our economy?) The best excuse Mr. Norman has heard from a student is "I'm late because my bicycle ran out of gas."

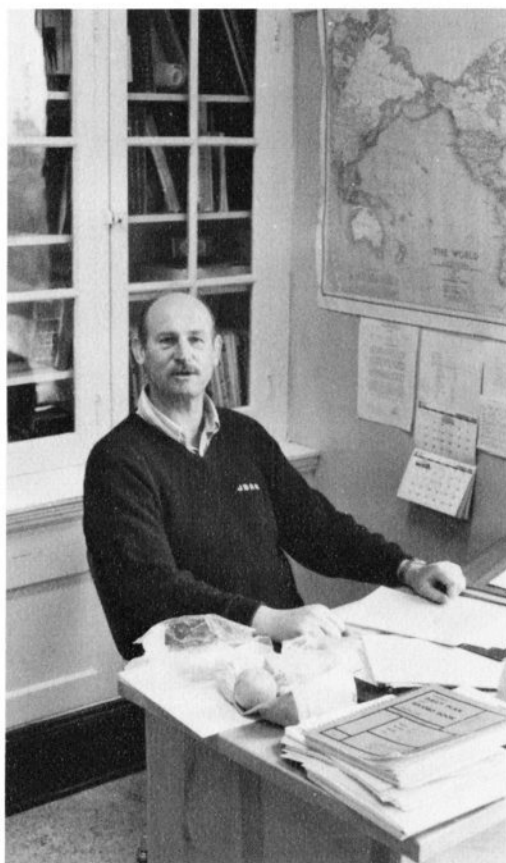

Mr. B. Twohig: Mr. Twohig's hobbies are listening to music, hiking and canoeing. He teaches Pre-Employment, Psychology 11 and his ideal punishment for a student is to video tape him/her and make them watch themselves 10 hours non stop. "I'll be having a baby" is the best excuse Mr. Towhig has ever heard from a student (creative excuse!)

Mr. D. Unwin: Mr. Unwin teaches Mechanics 11/12, Drafting 11/12, Construction 11 and General Industrial Ed. 11. He is also an ardent fisherman. (What a catch!)

Mr. T. Briggs: If Mr. Briggs wasn't a teacher at Vic High, he would be checking cars as a motor vehicle inspector because he likes the job security. (I heard the gov't closed all testing stations). His ideal punishment for a less than respectful student is to force them to listen to punk rock music for 24 hours and the best excuse he's heard is "I was trying out for a wet T-shirt contest." (Girl or guy?)

Mr. A. Brice: Mr. Brice teaches Metal Fab. 11/12 and is in charge of the ping-pong club.

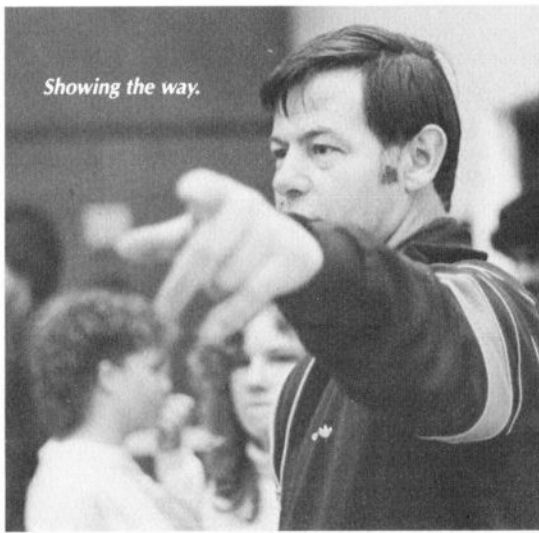

"You with the camera, hurry up!"

Male model.

A very verbal teacher!

Showing the way.

Mr. F. Packford: Mr. Packford teaches Woodwork and Boatbuilding and he enjoys sailing and fishing. His ideal punishment is "maximum verbal abuse — often!" (By the way, we can hear you from the main building . . . even with the windows closed!)

Mr. P. Denby: If Mr. Denby wasn't teaching P.E. and C.R. he would be working with small fish as a Marine Biologist. His hobbies are sailing, soccer and computers, and his ideal punishment for a less than respectful student is to put him or her in a scrum on the rugby team. (That's inhuman!)

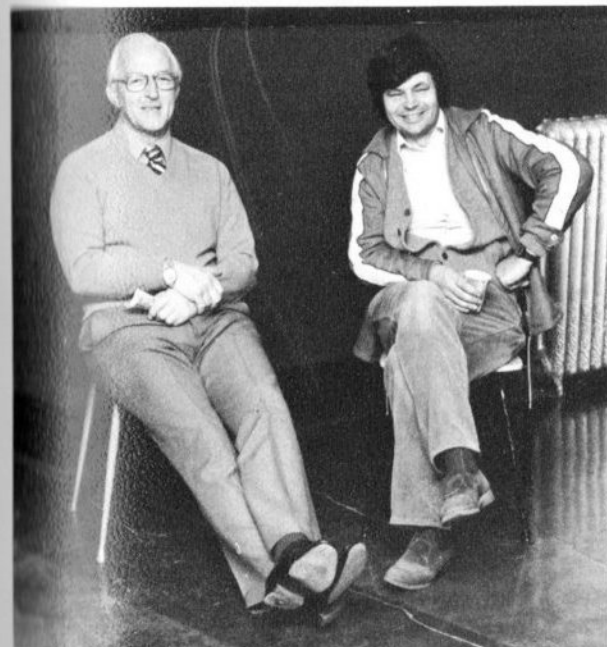

Wired for sound.

Mr. K. Rittel: Mr. Rittel teaches music and his hobbies include woodwork, photography and being with his family. He is best known for dashing in and out of Vic High and trying to get to another school in time because he teaches at four schools. (Bionic teacher!)

Mrs. M. Fishwick: If Mrs. Fishwick could choose another occupation she would choose to be a travel agent, for the opportunity to see the world. Her ideal punishment is to hang the student by his baby toes from the school flag pole. (Sounds like something the '85 grads would do!)

Time out!

Mrs. J. Yip: Mrs. Yip enjoys theatre which is probably why she teaches it as well as Social Studies, E.S.L. and English. Her students, according to her, should be treated the way they treat others.

Mr. F. Sedgwick: This school's automotive teacher enjoys 4-by-4-ing, hiking and camping and if given a choice would be a Zoo Keeper looking after our animals. Mr. Sedgwick's ideal punishment for one of his animals is to have him clean the solvent tank!

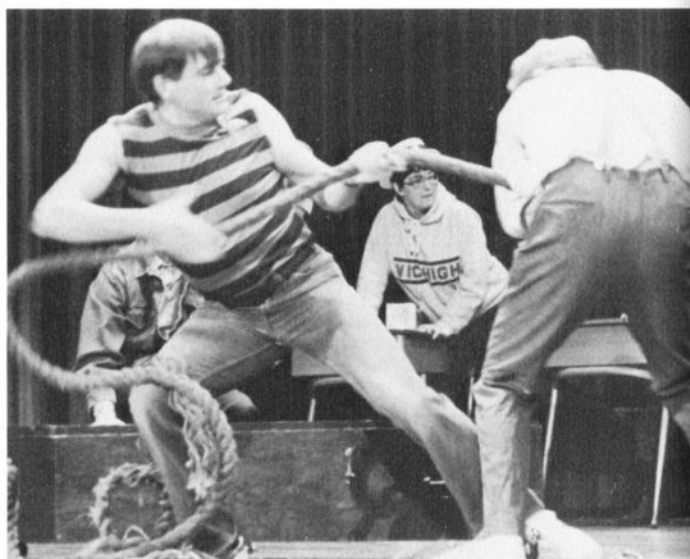

Mr. E. Wignall: Mr. Wignall's hobby is racing a pro rally car and if he could have done something other than teaching he would have liked to work in the automotive trade.

Mrs. M. Andrews: Mrs. Andrews hobbies include politics, spinning, weaving and travelling. The best excuse she's ever heard from a student who was told to stay after school, but didn't; when asked why he left his reply was "You didn't catch me." If Mrs. Andrews wasn't a teacher, she would be operating her own spinning and weaving studio. (Spinny teacher.)

Mr. G. English: We don't know much about Mr. English except that he teaches carpentry 11/12 and avoids filling out his teacher questionnaire. (I don't blame you, some of the questions were stupid!)

Gourmet Cook.

Releasing tension.

Students make teachers crazy.

Candid Camera!

Mrs. J. Stoldt: Mrs. Stoldt enjoys sewing, gardening and nature. This teacher teaches Social Studies, English M.E., Pre-Employment, Home Ec. and Art to the Special Education students and if given another choice would like to have been a fashion artist.

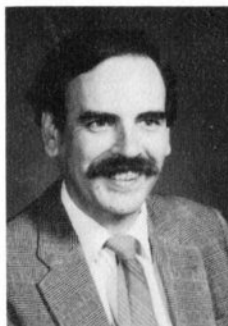

Mrs. P. Bings: Mrs. Bings enjoys gardening, sewing, knitting, trying to play the piano and teaching the GLA kids art and home ec. and if given another choice of an occupation she would have chosen to be a mail person.

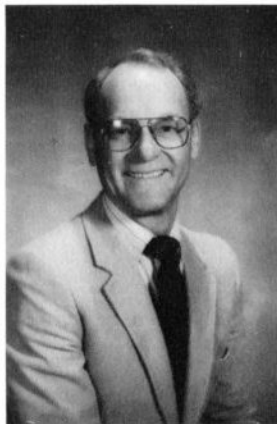

Miss M. Law: This teacher of French, English and Western Civ. enjoys music, books and good friends and if any of her students turn out less than respectful, she immediately vaporizes them. If given another choice of an occupation she would have liked to travel the world, as a restaurant critique.

Mr. J. Campbell: This Special Education teacher teaches Life Skills, Physical Education and Administration. He also drives us crazy on the school bus.

Mrs. L. Allison: This teacher of Home Economics, Housing and Interior Design, Textile Arts and Crafts and Clothing wishes to have been a travel agent so she could spend winter checking out the Hilton Hotels in tropical locations. Mrs. Allison's favorite excuses range from "I'm going to see the Pope," to "I've sewn it to the inside of my dress."

Mrs. G. Wong: Mrs. Wong enjoys theatre, tennis and working out. She is a teacher of English, Psychology and Pre-Employment but, if given another choice, would have chosen to be a Chatelaine model.

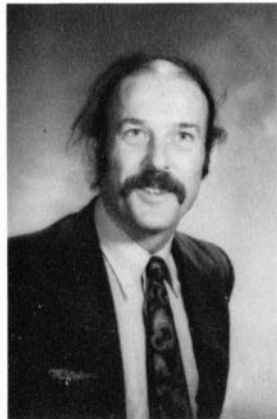

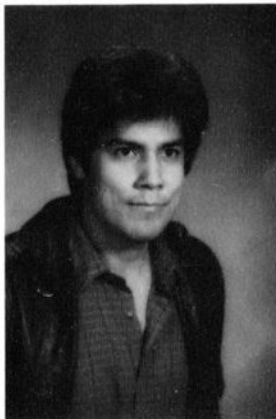

Mr. B. Camp: Mr. Camp's hobbies are beagling and collecting poppies for bellibones. (Sure hope you find some!) He would some day like to be president of Air Canada because then he would get free passes in and out of Sooke International Airport. (You mean people actually live in Sooke?)

Mr. G. Sinclair: Mr. Sinclair has had other occupations but finds that teaching Electronics to the hard working students at Vic High is the most rewarding and satisfying career he has ever had. His ideal punishment for a less than respectful student is first, to ignore him or her and then if he persists, it's off to the office.

Mr. R. Blasner: Mr. Blasner teaches Chemistry and Physics and he enjoys windsurfing and skiing. He doesn't like to be bugged about his "cranial foliage". (It's what's inside that counts, not what's on top!)

Mr. W. Ashwell: We asked Mr. Ashwell what subjects he taught and his reply was, "Any loyal Canadian or Afghani subjects I meet." (Is this a teacher with a sense of humour or what?) His hobbies are church work, racket sports and hiking. He would have liked to have been a life time student, because he doesn't like to work.

Mr. D. Yeomans: Mr. Yeomans teaches Native Art and is famous for saying, "2 absences = 1 late and 10 absences and it's bye bye!"

Mr. W. Pukesh: Mr. Pukesh's hobbies include shooting pool, building rock walls and swimming at the lake. His ideal punishment for a student is to drop him or her out the third floor window and see if they bounce and the best excuse he's heard goes like this, "I thought there was no school yesterday because you had died, and I was so upset when I heard it wasn't true!" (This student really likes you!)

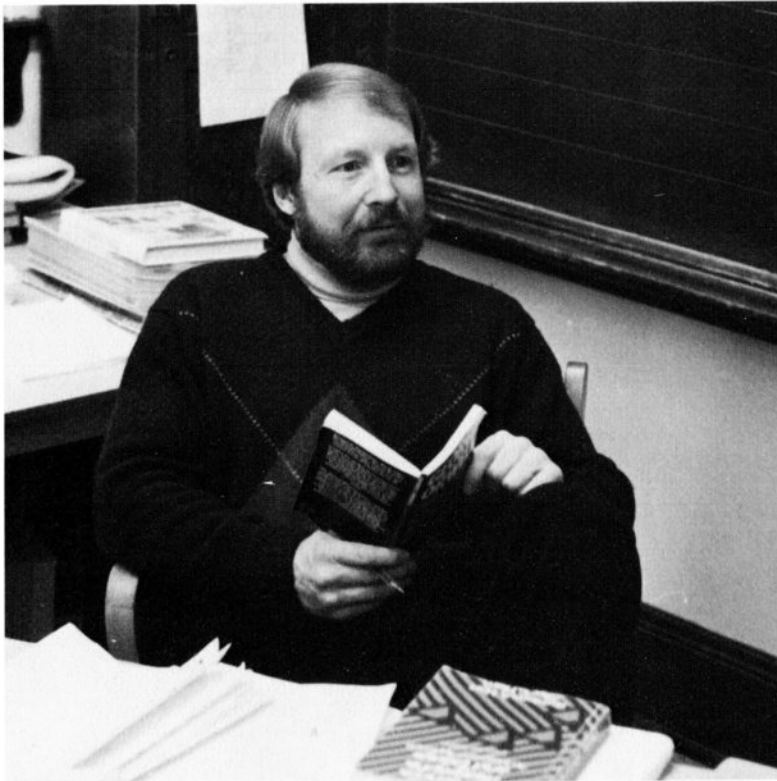

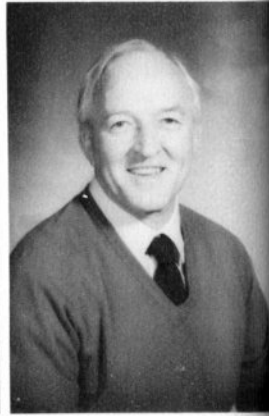

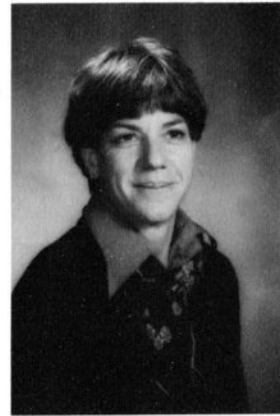

"We want you!"

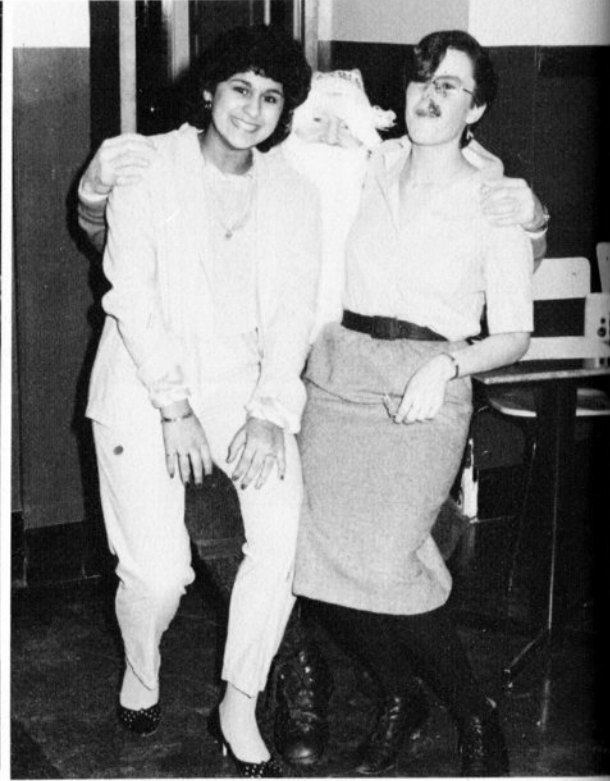

Working hard.

Miss J. Peggs: Although we didn't find out much about Miss Peggs, we do know that she teaches Foods and Nutrition and P.E. (she's the teacher who eats and runs!)

Mr. B. McHugh: If Mr. McHugh wasn't a teacher he would like to be in a profession where he deals with people, like a doctor. His hobbies are beachcombing, photography and reading. To deal with less than respectful students he'll fill them with a stare (the evil eye!) and the best excuse Mr. McHugh has heard is "I couldn't do my homework because I had to take my grandfather out to look for a job." (Where at McDonald's?)

Teachers read too.

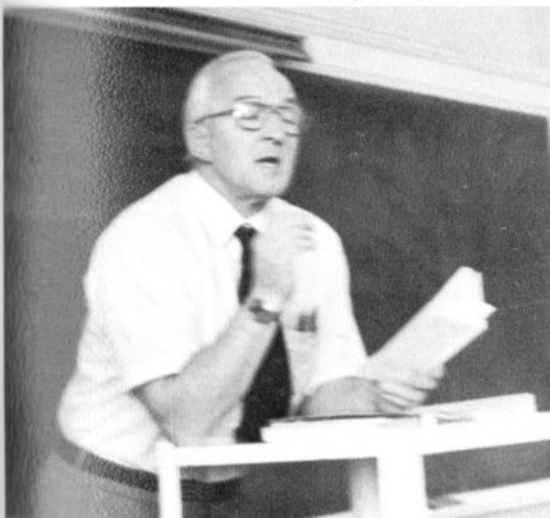

Santa gets gifts too.

Mr. T. Cummings: A few of Mr. Cummings hobbies include rugby, tennis, orchestral music and cross country skiing. If he wasn't a teacher he would like to be a rancher, for the serenity or a pro tennis player, for the Razzmatazz and money. His perfect punishment for a student would be to exchange the black leather jacket for a pink Tu Tu. (That's an original punishment!)

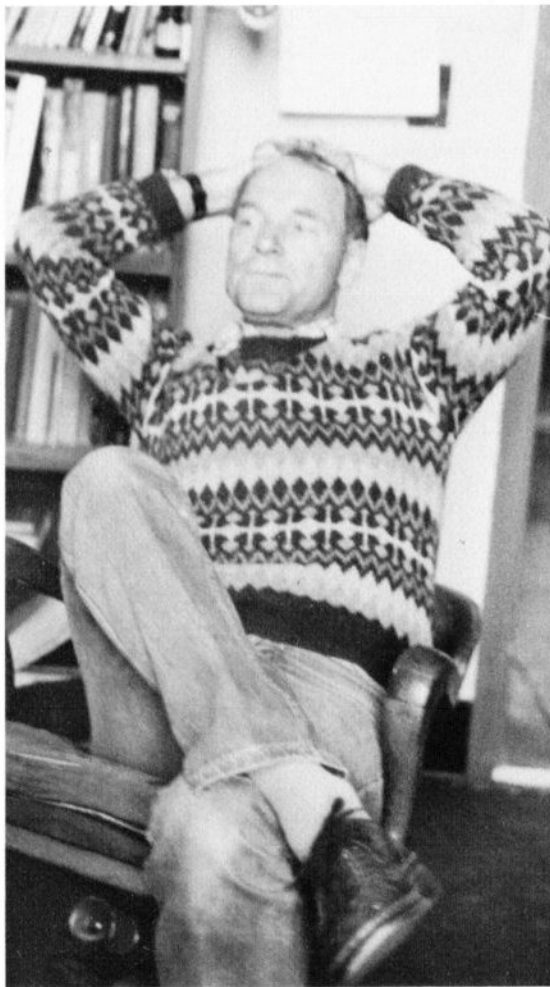

"Look at the ankles on that one!"

"I think better with my eyes closed."

Smile pretty!

Taking it easy.

Mrs. N. Nelson: Although we don't know much about Mrs. Nelson, we do know that she splits her time up between Central Jr. Secondary School and Vic High. We also hear that she is a very nice lady.

Mr. J. J. Baur: Mr. Baur's hobbies are sailing, golfing, skiing, curling and painting. His ideal punishment for students would be to transfer them to Oak Bay School. (That's cruel!) The best excuse he's heard from a student goes something like this, "I went to bed Wednesday night and dreamed it was Saturday, so when I woke up I thought it was Sunday and no school." (A little confused?)

Mr. C. Brookman: Some of Mr. Brookman's hobbies are painting, boating, watching films and cleaning his car. His ideal punishment for a student would be to paint him or her (how can you tell he's an art teacher) and he couldn't sing like Mick Jagger so he decided to teach instead. (You made the right choice).

Mr. L. Owen: Mr. Owen teaches English and Learning Assistance and his hobbies are piano playing, watching old movies and reading. The best excuse he's heard comes from a twin, "I didn't do it, it was my twin brother." (Double vision!)

Mr. B. Chan: Mr. Chan's hobbies include fishing, stamp collecting, photography and listening to mellow music. He teaches Bio 11/12, Science 10 and Writing 11A (year book class) but he'd rather be a janitor because he loves pushing brooms. His ideal punishment (as many know) is scrubbing desks and writing lines.

Mrs. M. Nemeth: Mrs. Nemeth teaches Algebra, English, Writing and E.S.L. She enjoys aerobics, cooking, entertaining, dancing, reading, watching Masterpiece Theatre and travelling — which is why she would have liked to be a travel agent and travel around.

Mr. G. Brooks: Mr. Brooks is a very busy teacher who really enjoys his work. He teaches Business Communications 12, Social Studies 11, Machine Calculation and Procedures 12, Consumer Education 12, and Accounting.

In life we celebrate our friends, achievements and our high school graduation.

Manju Ablak: "Billo" enjoys dancing and, if she could, she would change her name to Reena because it's easier to say. What she liked best about Vic High are the teachers although she tells us she dislikes time. This future nurse would like to give special recognition to her friends Krishna Toora, Ravinder Jhaj and Nerender.

Manjit Aheer: Manjit likes volleyball, drama, kids, parks, reading and long walks but dislikes the long, cold hallways. Her one wish is an unusual one; she wants to travel around the world and then put a down payment on it. (really?) After grad, Manjit wants to find a well paying job. Good Luck, Manjit.

Tara Aheer: "B.W." enjoys watching old movies, reading, listening to music, food and life. Tara's one wish is to meet Kermit the Frog and make a movie with him because he is a perfect "10". (Miss Piggy agrees with you). One day she would like to feel that she has watched all the re-runs of "My Three Sons".

Gerald Albion: Gerald's interests include computers, Ozzy Osbourne and beer. He dislikes the smell of cafeteria food while in Algebra class but likes the 2:30 bell. His one wish would be to change English to an elective and his most memorable moment was waltzing into school with a chimpanzee mask on. After grad, Gerald hopes to spend an indefinite period of time in university.

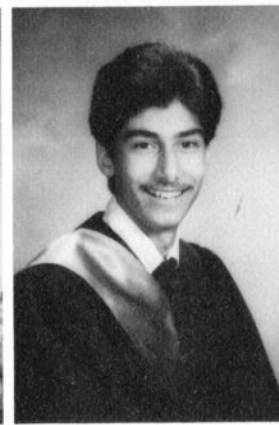

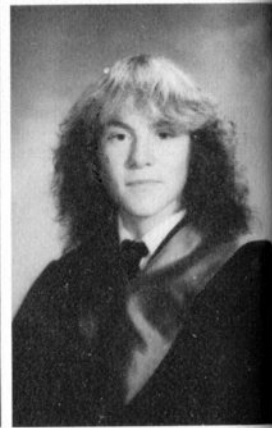

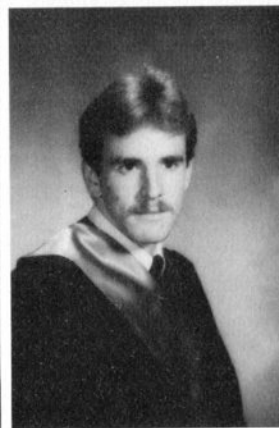

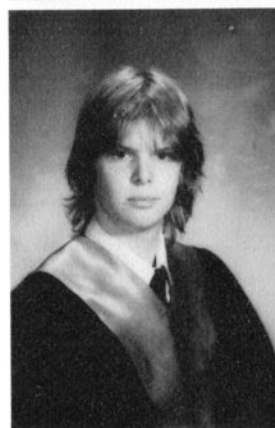

Dave Allan: "Mr. Moose; Sir" is called this because he told us to. His interests include driving, driving and Minis and will always remember the time his Mini caught on fire. Dave's one wish is to own a red Ferrari in Hawaii as he stars on a famous T.V. show (what a wish) and would like to be remembered for not being here. (Dave who??)

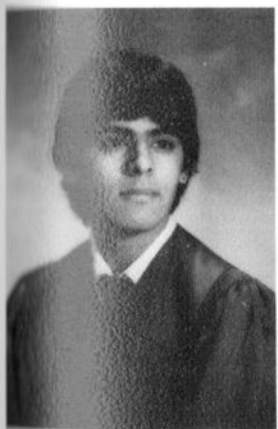

Mik Almond: Mike is interested in music (Led Zeppelin) and parking lot parties. Although he dislikes the long lunch hour, he does like the teachers and the school's high achievement. After grad, Mike plans to spend one month of straight drinking (have fun with the hang-over) and would like to be in a band and get rich.

Robyn Ashmore: Robyn's interests are skiing, skating and swimming. She likes Mr. Blasner, Mrs. Egan, the school spirit and the people best at Vic High. Robyn plans to return to school after grad and then travel. She leaves us with a message for the undergrads — "Make it good, it's your best and last year!"

Surinder Atwal: Unfortunately, this person had "Questionnaire Phobia" and was unable to hand his questionnaire in. We wish the best for you in the future!

Sherry Bailey: "Half Pint" is interested in horseback riding, carving and D.J. She likes last class the best and having a cast on her leg for six months was her most memorable moment. After graduation, she plans to get a job, a good education and marry D.J. Good luck in the future.

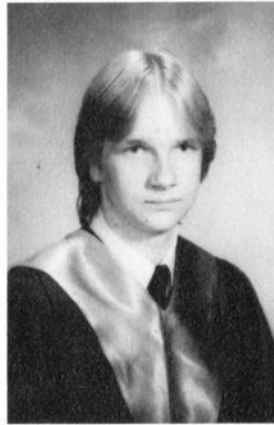

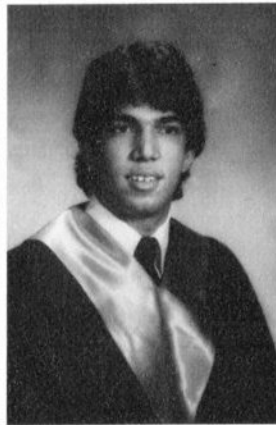

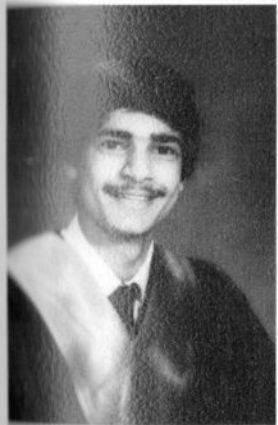

Paul Bains: "Uncle Paul" enjoys partying and snoozing, which is why he wants to be remembered for falling asleep in class. What he likes most about Vic High is the 2:30 bell but dislikes the exams. After grad, Paul will attend College and his one wish is to become filthy rich. (In today's economy?)

Steve Bartrim: Steve likes Judas Priest, skiing, parties and fast cars but dislikes all the wimpy rockers in the world. He enjoys the shop courses and says he wants to somehow get a guitar lesson from Glen Tipton. After grad, Steve plans to party, party, party and would like to be remembered for being a "head-banger."

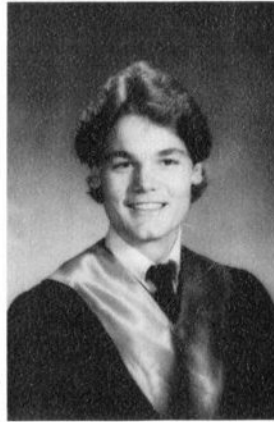

Kim Basi: Kim "our prez." enjoys bugging Mrs. A and going to Vancouver. Even though this talkative person enjoys socializing, she hates being caught in the halls. After grad, Kim plans on furthering her education at Camosun and wants to be remembered for being herself.

Tarsam Basi: "Rasam's" interests are playing sports, doing physics problems and all the fantastic looking girls at Vic High. If "Shinda" had one wish, he would get rid of the government exams and after grad, plans to attend university. Tarsam wants to be remembered for just being himself.

Sukhvinder Basra: Sukh's main interests are sports and girls in tight pants. He would like to be remembered for his toga (Which, by the way, was about the size of a pillow case). After grad, Sukh hopes to become rich, live in a penthouse and become an exotic dancer.

Kerry Bateman: Kerry's interests are cars and getting drunk on weekends. He dislikes the 8:30 bell on Monday, and likes the 2:30 bell on Friday. Kerry's only wish is that there would be no more Chevys and his most memorable moment was having a snowball fight in mid September.

Patricia Beaveridge: "Psych Babble" is interested in music, dancing and, of course, Darren. She likes Vic High's people and good times but dislikes Block "A". Patty's most embarrassing (or memorable) moment was getting on stage in front of a bunch of perverted students. After graduation, Patty plans to have a career and spend time with D.S.

Roberta Bell: Roberta is interested in rock, money and a guy named J.K. "Berta" would like to change her name to "Ilkinoko 'yas" because it means "happy" in her native tongue. She enjoys being around her friends and after grad she plans to party till the sun comes up then move on to Camosun.

Clint Bilton: "Colonel" like the "buses" at Vic High but dislikes grade 11's with leather jackets. He is interested in basketball, volleyball and B.R. Clint's one wish is to win the B.C. Championships for basketball and he would like to be remembered for his good looks and charm.

Follow the leader.

Robbie Bird: "Birdie's" interests are sports, partying, girls and making money. He dislikes Mr. S. and likes his spares. If Robbie had one wish it would be to travel around the world and visit every country with crates full of Molson Canadian. He would like to be remembered for leaving Vic High in style.

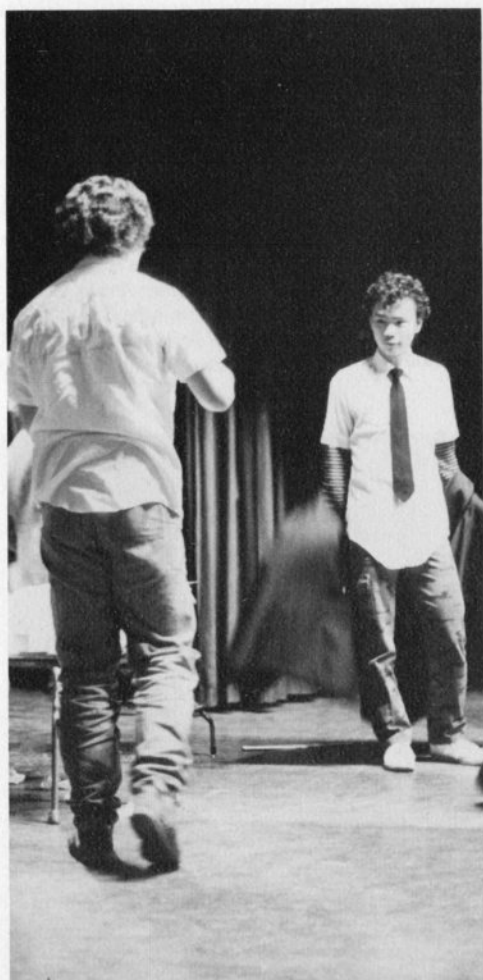

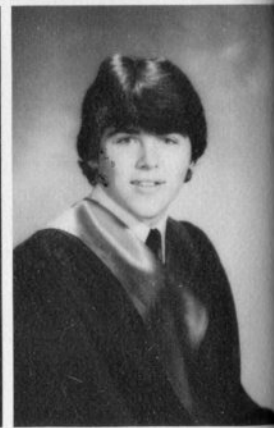

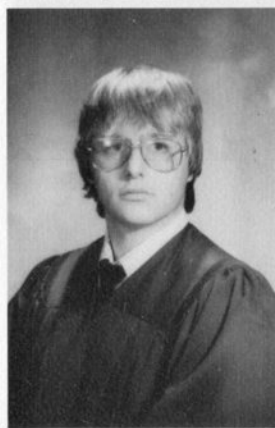

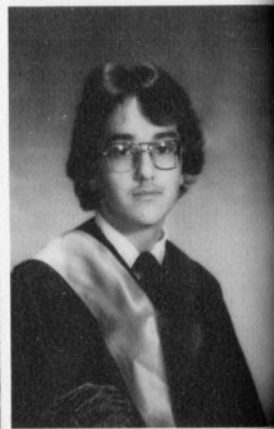

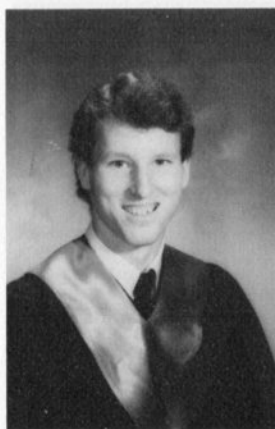

Nancy Bond: "Snookums" is interested in doing wild and crazy things (?). She loves Vic High and the people in it but dislikes physics. Nancy wishes to live on a deserted island with J.H. and her most memorable moment was going up to the attic. After grad Nancy would like to be remembered for being a friend.

Fernando Botelho: Fernando is interested in cars, swimming and girls and tells us that lunch hour and automotive shop are his likes about Vic High. After grad he plans on building the fastest car around, party and then go to work (I hope life passes you by slower than your car will).

Chris Bowen: Unfortunately, this person had "Questionnaire Phobia" and was unable to hand his questionnaire in. Good Luck Chris.

Mauri Brandau: Mauri's interests around the school are parties, girls and '84 rock music. (ho hum). The best thing Mauri likes about Vic High are the weekends and holidays and his one wish would be to win a million dollars so he wouldn't have to work. (Good Thinking.)

Brad Burns: "Psycho" is interested in art and wishes to become a famous artist before he dies. He likes the 11:35 and 2:30 bells but dislikes all the rest. Wrestling with D.K. in the hallways was Brad's most memorable moment at Vic High. After grad, he plans to work for a year then attend an art college.

Shirt tales!

Mirror magic.

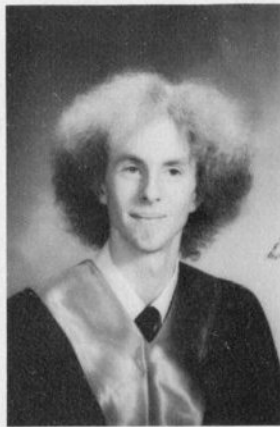

What a gentleman.

In the spotlight.

"Chin up!"

Regina Buttner: This reading enthusiast enjoys swimming, travelling, interior design and curling. She likes all the teachers and students at Vic High and after grad, hopes to get a job, an apartment and some expensive furniture. We will remember her for a person who tried her best and for her friendliness. Good Luck, Regina.

Michael Caddick: Unfortunately, this person had "Questionnaire Phobia" and was unable to hand his questionnaire in. Good Luck Mike.

Glenn Campbell: "Tootsie's" interests are music, Volvos, spiritualism and sex. He likes everything about Vic High, especially the auto body shop. Glenn hasn't had any memorable or embarrassing moments yet, but he hopes to soon. After he leaves school, he would like to be remembered for never missing a day.

Shannon Carby: Shannon tells us her interests include camping and being with R.T. Her dislikes about Vic High are the stairs and her one wish is to be rich and happy for the rest of her life. When she graduates she hopes to go to nursing school and would like to be remembered for finally graduating.

Jami Carr: Jamie's interests are skiing, travelling and grad night. He likes the good atmosphere, wild people and good looking ladies at Vic High but dislikes most of the teachers. "Jam's" one wish, would be to play pro-football, but for now he plans to work up north then go to Australia.

David Carter: This "bomb disposal pro" has many interests including model building and cooking. David likes the Home-Ec program and meeting new teachers at Vic High but dislikes being called "Spaceman". His most memorable (or embarrassing) moment was getting lost in the hallway and ending up in the wrong room. After grad, David will hopefully find a job.

Mercia-Dawn Chapman: Mercia enjoys arts, fashions, interior housing, decorating and enjoys knowing at least half of the people she sees in the halls. Mercia enjoys her F.S. and sewing classes (Thanks to Mrs. Allison) and after grad plans to work for a little while then take a course in fashion or decorating in either Seattle or Vancouver. Good Luck on the courses Mercia.

Ada Cheung: Ada's interests are spending lunch hours with her boyfriend Neil and keeping fit. She dislikes coming back for exams. Ada's one wish is to become a model or a fashion designer but after grad hopes to make lots of money and get into modelling or hairdressing.

What A Day To Remember

*Slowly Liz got out of bed,
Turned around and bumped her head.
Had some breakfast, and a shower,
Tried the milk, but it was sour
What a day to remember.*

*Got in the car and turned the key,
Pressed the gas and banged her knee.
Ripped her nylons up her calf,
Cursed and ripped the other half.
What a day to remember.*

*Made it to school, ten minutes late,
Forgot her combo, which sealed her fate.
The teacher's screaming got to her head,
"That's it," she said, "It's home to bed."
What a day to remember.*

*Started dinner when mom got home,
Then turned around and used the phone.
Talked as though she was really concerned,
But had to go, her dinner had burned.
What a day to remember.*

*Watched T.V. til she got tired,
Then her work phoned, she was fired.
She thought she would come apart at the seam
And then woke up, it was a dream, but . . .
But what a day to remember.*

Debbie Klinick

Grad '85

*This is the year we graduate.
Pick up the phone and call your date.
The year we grad is '85.
The year we really come alive.
So hoot and holler, scream and yell.
And hope to God that we don't fail.
But if we do, oh help us Lord.
Another year of being bored.*

Debbie Klinick

Putting thought on paper.

WHY?

What did I do wrong?
Did I move too fast?
Did I care too much?
You knew I cared,
But you had to hurt me anyway.
You didn't strike me or abuse me,
You ignored me;
And I can't take it anymore.
When I reached out,
You held me.
When I spoke,
You listened and responded.
So, what did I do wrong?
I'm hurt and confused.
Our little world is destroyed,
And I don't know how to rebuild it.
Please, Oh please,
Won't you talk to me!

Maria Heard

WHAT TO DO?

What do you do
When your world is all upturned
And your life feels lifeless and blue?
You dream of a dream
That is lovely and true
And it seems to be real
But it's only for you.
What do you say
When your mind is all confused
And you feel worse than yesterday?
You sing of a song
That reveals a way
To get you back on track
But it's only for today.
For tomorrow they say
Is unlike today
But it's always the same
In a relative way.

Brad Fauteux

"LESSONS OF LIFE"

I thank you for what you've taught me.
I no longer hang on your every word — like an idol.
But instead respect you for the human being you are,
and for the knowledge you have given me.
I miss you but am glad we are separated for the present.
So that we can learn other invaluable lessons — the lessons of life.
So that when we meet again we will have both grown.
May we both be two of the many scholars in the lessons of life.

Lisa Hamilton

SHARING THE LONELINESS

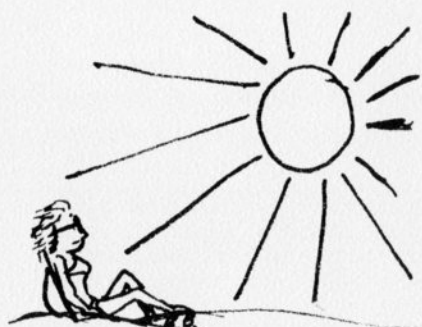

When I look into your eyes
I feel the loneliness there.
I want to bring you close
And hold you in my arms
To tell you I love you
And to see your smile again.
I want to walk with you
Hand in hand like before
To hear you laugh with me
To see you happy again.
I just want to be able
To look into your eyes
And wipe away the loneliness.
I would like to share with you
The road of freedom and life.
I want you always to be near.
I want you to share your heartbeat
With mine as I share
My life with you.
I know what's happening
I've seen it before,
And I can understand because
It hurts me, too, at times
The loneliness does.
It invades my soul.
But the rising of the sun
Brings back my sanity.
I can face each day knowing you'll be here.
Do not think you're the only one
But share with me your troubles
And they'll be gone.

Kathleen Merry

NOW

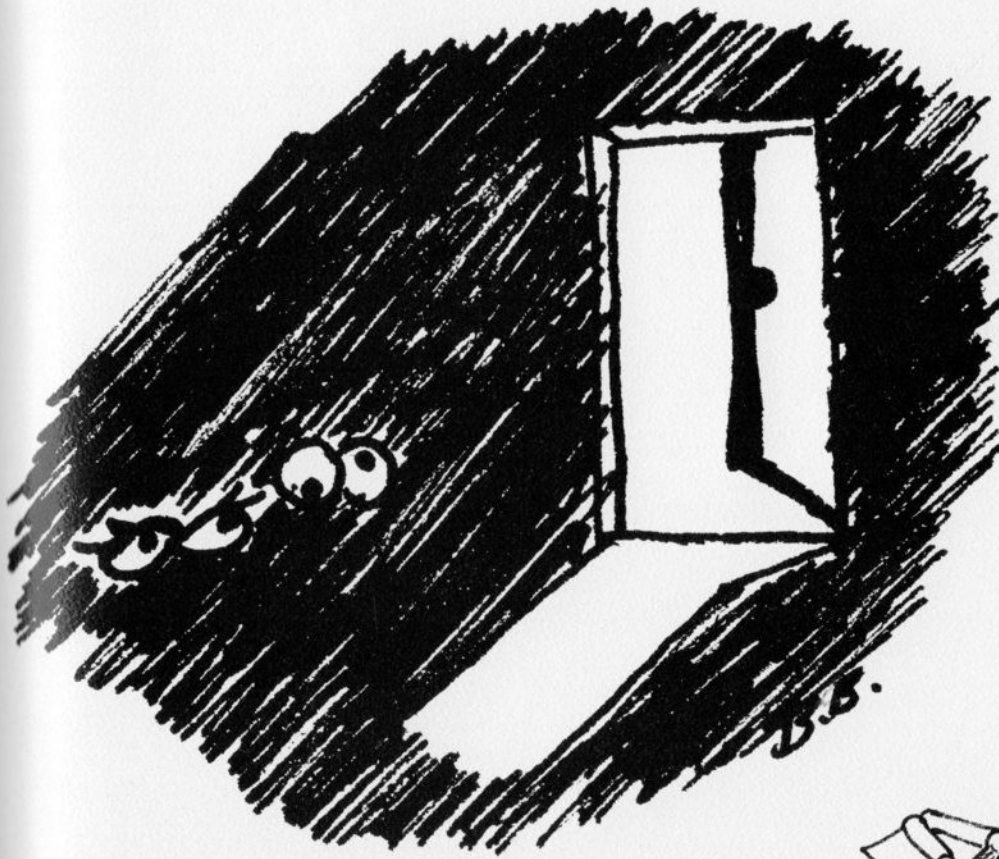

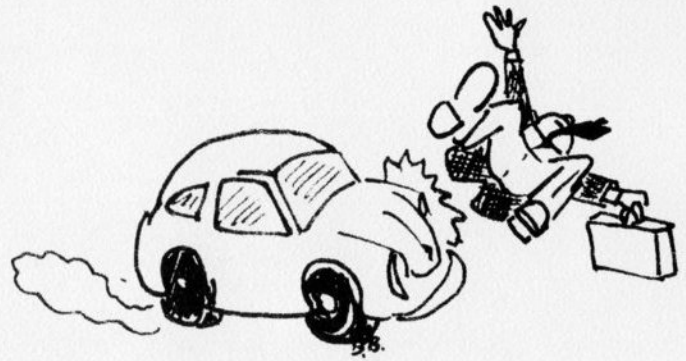

A swirling cesspool of emotion
I feel this way.
I gave you my devotion
And you threw it away.
You're an iceberg to me
And you don't care.
So when I go to sea
I'm glad you won't be there.
I wanted you for my own
But there was just no way.
Since leaving you I've grown
And I realized today.
I was wasting my time
Trying to tie you down.
You were just like a mime
Wouldn't talk; just be around.
You've got dreams you can't share.
You'd like to but won't dare.
I like your smile, your eyes, your hair
But now I just don't care
Any more.

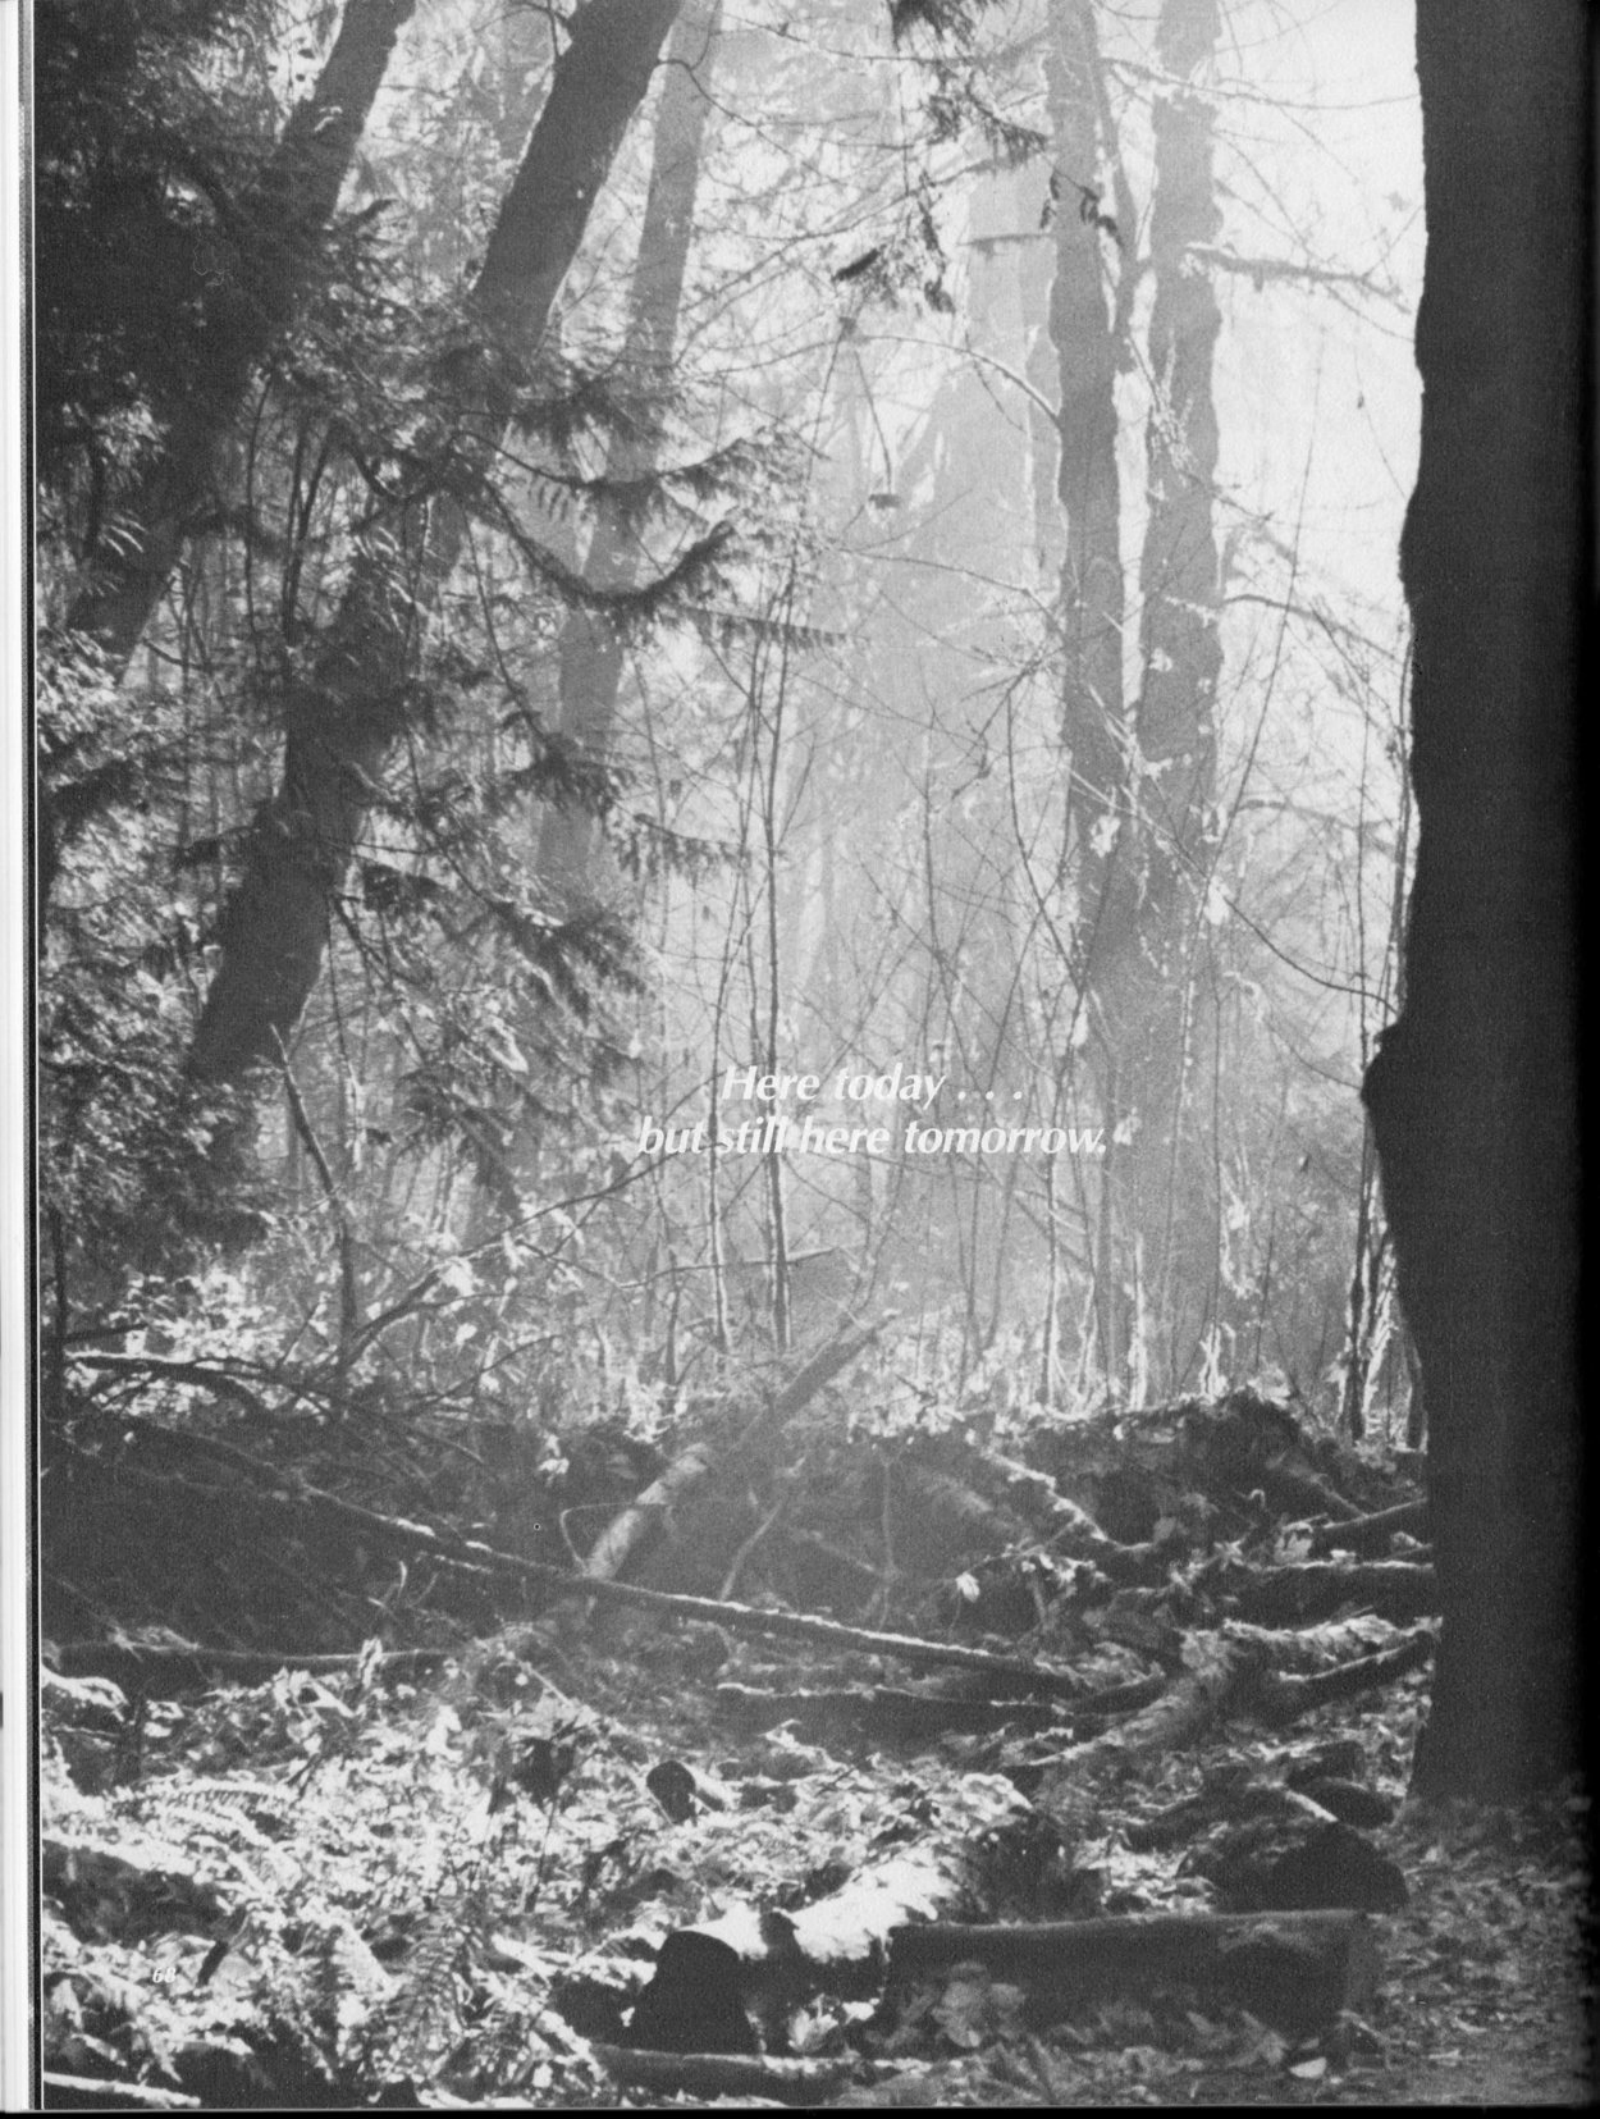

Brad Fauteux

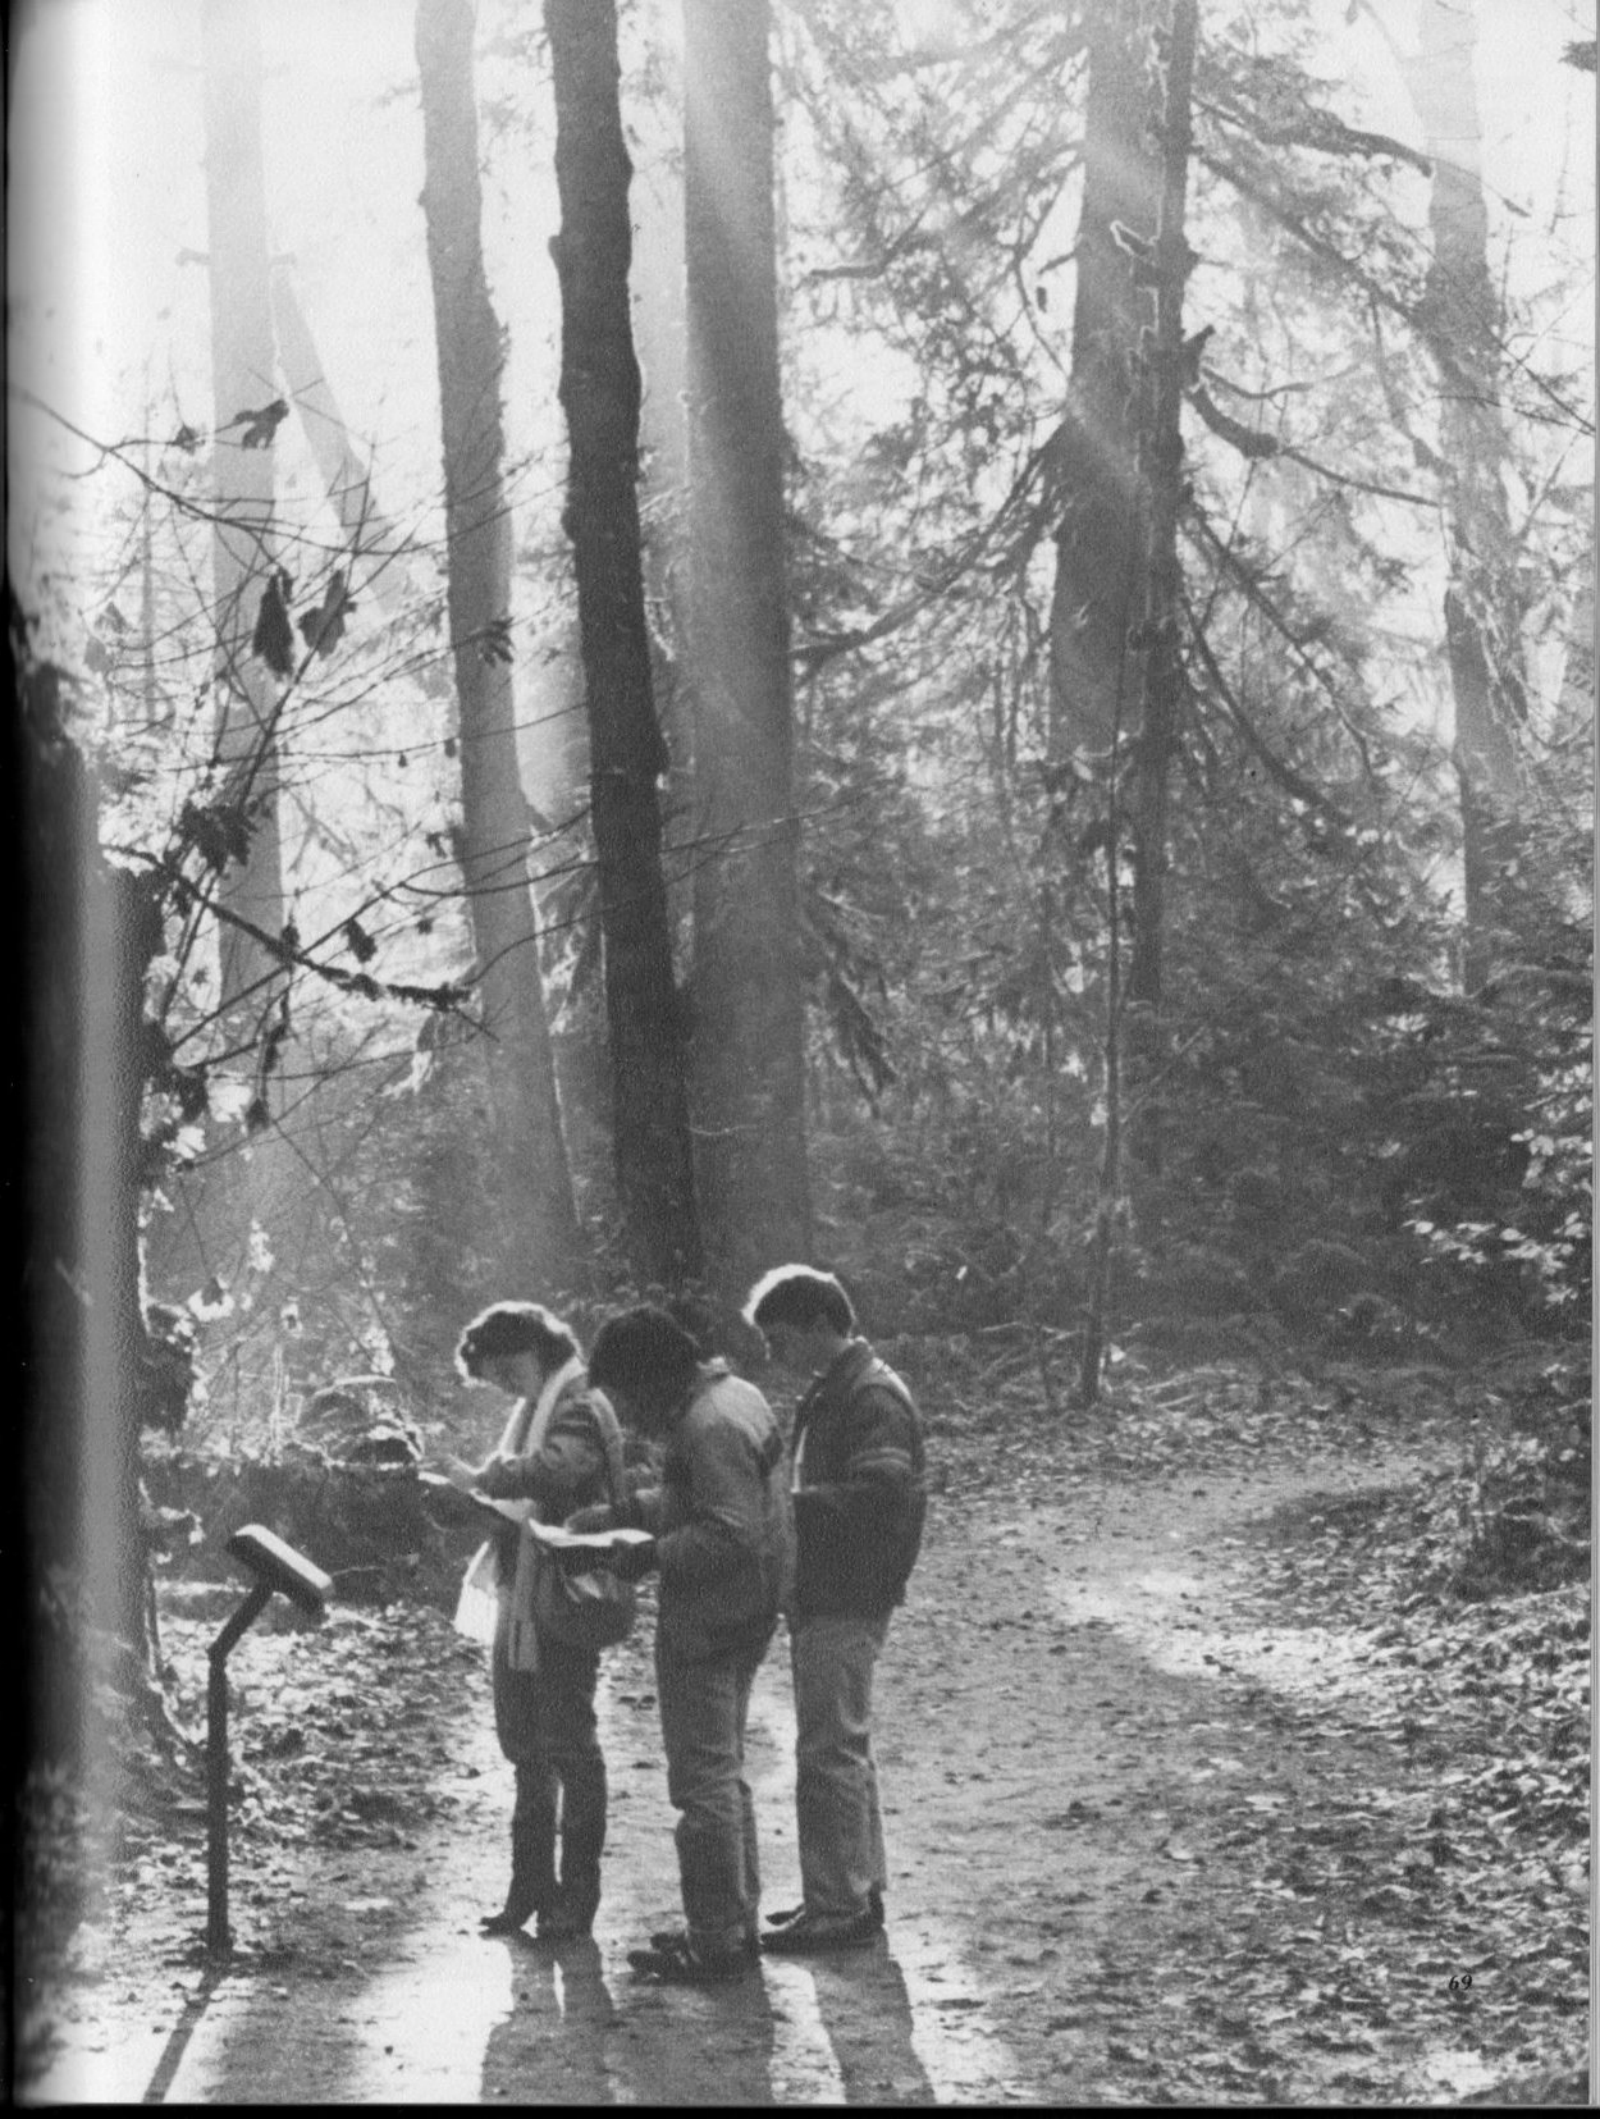

The Vic High Ten Commandments

1. Thou shalt not drive his teacher to the grave but let him provide his own transportation.
2. Thou shalt not tear up school books;
burn them so they cannot be re-cycled.
3. Thou shalt not skip classes; take the whole day off.
4. Thou shalt not make out in the halls, find a storage room, it's darker.
5. Thou shalt not waste supplies at school;
take them home.
6. Thou shalt not throw erasers; throw compasses for the recoverer will get the point.
7. Thou shalt not copy his neighbours work
let him do it for you.
8. Thou shalt not drive recklessly on school grounds and hit students; wait for the teachers.
9. Thou shalt not whisper in class, yell, it attracts more attention.
10. Thou shalt not clean out thy locker lest the poor undernourished mice starve.

Boy's Basketball Team

This year's Totems had a poor standing in league play, finishing sixth, but had good results in tournament play, as they placed third in the Courtenay tournament, and fourth in the Kamloops. The Totems had three top scorers in the league as Tugomir Rados averaged 19 points, Clint Bilton 11, and Jason Jordon 10. Their most impressive win was beating Mt. Tsasquatches 3rd in Lower Island

With only three of the six starters coming back from last year, the Tsasquatches were in a rebuilding year. With the power hitting of Darren Sufferen and the combination of teamwork, they had a very competitive season. Entering into the Lower Islands the Tsasquatches boasted a very respectable record, as they placed third in the Lower Islands with a spectacular win in three games over Spectrum. The Tsasquatches were not as fortunate in the Islands as they placed sixth, but had an exciting match against Vanier in which Vic High beat them in three games. Tsasquatches from L-R, Top Row: Tarsam Basi, Darren Sufferen, Rob Dosanjh. Bottom Row: Mr. Baur (sponsor), Raymond Ngan, Yudy Lee, Troy Davies, Morris Lee (coach). Missing: Wally Yu and Steve Yu.

Tigers Give Good Effort.

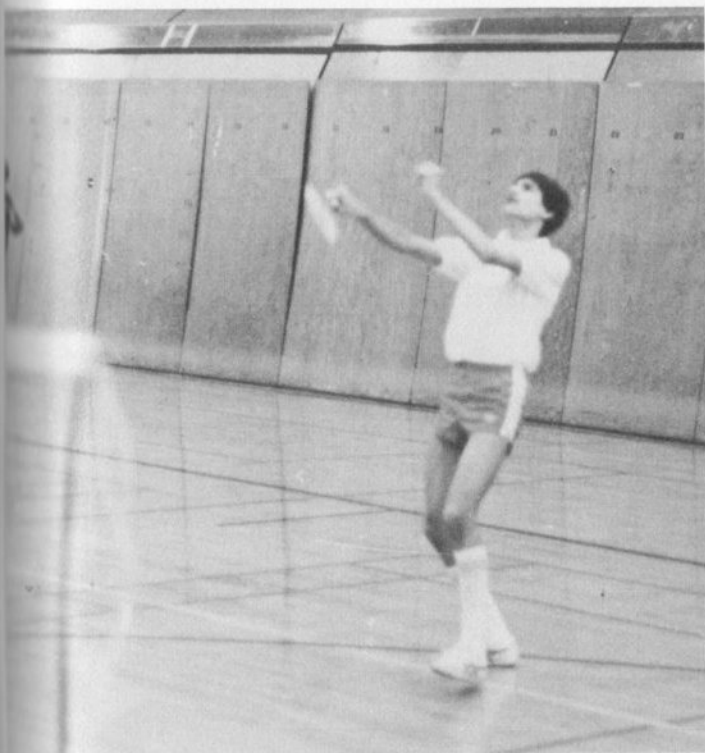

Though there was a lack of height this year, the Tigers quickness and hustle made up for it, and were in some very close matches this season. The addition of Ever Elam who averaged 8 points a game, and 2 block shots was the brightest spot on the team. Tikis from L-R, Front Row: Roberta Stevens (manager), Tama Chase, Cindy Dorey, Shannon Whonnock, Norma Smith, Shaunee Harley (coach), Heidi Mackenzie (manager). Bottom Row: Bonnie Ryder, Terry Dorey, Francis Coburn. Missing: Chrissy Billy, Ever Elam, Mrs. Egan (sponsor).

A Big Smash For Thunderbirds

Noon Hour Extravaganza

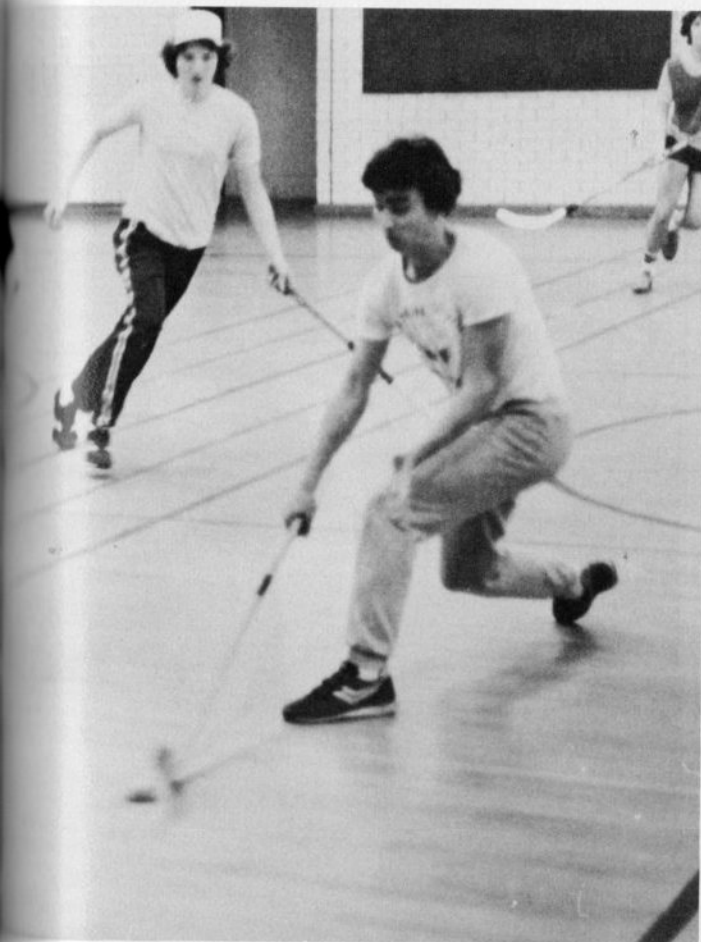

This year's hockey was characterized by intense play and hard hitting. The teams were all evenly matched and any team can be beaten at any given time. The teams consisted of about 70 to 80 students of all grades. The Fall League champions, the Rangers won a hard played game beating the Slickers 3-1. Later in the year there was a Spring League in which the Loonies came up victorious, with a 6-1 triumph over the Rangers. Special thanks to Mr. Denby, Mr. Twohig, Mr. Cummings, Mr. Dilay and the Student referees.

Table Tennis

We did not know what these "ping pongers" actually did because when they were asked they said they played tennis. Whatever they did during their club meetings they did it during lunch hour and afterschool. Among the main members were Eddie Cheng, Herman Cheung, Kevin Chu, Steve Hu, Mike Mok, Raymond Ngan, Warren Quan, David Shen, John Situ and Wally Yu. Mr. Brice was the sponsor for these ping pong fanatics.

Bodybuilders

The bodybuilders represented an informal group of students who went down to the weight rooms to "pump iron" and build up their physiques. Don McHardie was in charge. These muscle bound people used the weight rooms at lunch and after school.

Grad Committee

This committee started preparations for the recognition ceremony in January. With help from a teacher committee, Mrs. Allison, Mr. Dilay, Ms. Egan, Ms. Fishwick and Mr. Nesmith, they decide on guest speakers, the songs that will be sung by the students and details about the dinner/dance. They hope grad is a success . . . and so do the grads. The members of the committee were Manjit Aheer-Rai, Robyn Ashmore, Terri Dorey, Barbera Fanucchi, Lisa Hamilton, Lori James, Karen Kennedy and Anita Morgan.

Brad's Harem! (Interact Club)

Christian Club

The Christian club includes members of a variety of Christian churches and some non-Christians who were interested in learning more about Christianity. They had speakers from various churches and community agencies. Their main objective was to let others know that there were Christians in the school. Members were Nora Caton, Alan Sorensen, Gina Wong and Lena Yee. The Christian club was sponsored by Mr. Ashwell.

This year's drama class has had many "Up" days. Not only has Mrs. Yip put together four plays, but with the cooperation of both cast and crew, three of the plays made it to the Drama-Fest and one, "Sunday Cost Five Pesos", made it to the showcase. Also awarded at the McPherson was an award for Best Actress, given to Lisa Frew for her role in the performance in "The Other Other Woman". The other play entered into the Drama-Fest was student directed by Debbie Klinick, "The Babysitter". The fourth play which was not entered in the Festival was "Little Glass Houses." The Drama class includes Jason Hitchmough, Lori James, Debbie Klinick, Lisa Littlechief, Lisa Phillips, Lisa Frew, Shannon Bergman, Brad Burns, Ever Elam, Mary Jane Pickford, Burnne Yew, Leah Blackwood, Carla Dickson, Karen Merritt, Tama Chaise, Sarah Cook, and Carrie Murray. The acting department would also like to give an Honorable Mention to the crew; without their help we couldn't have done anything. They are Chris, Lori James, Raj Memhi, and Anita Morgan.

Behind the scenes.

This year's Giant Gym Sale was a lot of fun and a great success. Many of us donated clothes, books, records, household items, while others helped in the organization. Without the help of all the people involved, it wouldn't have worked out so well. Teachers and students alike found much interest in the gym full of priceless and worthless articles.

There was much participation in the Gym Sale from everyone involved. Those of us with people skills sold the articles. Those of us with muscles carried things for buyers, and for any of us with neither of these skills there was food to pig out on and games to play, although there were some who did all of these. It was a great success and something to always remember.

This year we had a Toga Dance and what a turnout! Some people wore togas from their necks down to their ankles. While others (the more daring of us) wore hardly nothing at all! The music blared on until the final dance came and we had to leave. Most of us wanted to party the night away but due to administrative staff, we could not. I guess when we get older we'll understand better.

The Halloween Dance was one of the best we had this year as there was a fantastic turnout. Every type of costume you could think of was there, even a "Playgirl Bunny". The Student's Council decorated the gym to fit the occasion. We all had a great time (or at least we looked like we did.)

Lowther's Laws.

The C.A.C.'s main objective is to bring about public awareness on the topic of impaired driving. We did this by such activities as Child Restraint raffles, lectures, Christmas assemblies and Grad assemblies. We also field contests, displayed vehicles and demonstrated legal proceedings assisted by police. We weren't trying to stop students and staff from drinking but just from driving afterwards. In doing this the committee received provincial recognition by being awarded $250 and a plaque from I.C.B.C. In short we just wanted every one to make it through their senior high school years safely and to have a good time.

Editor's Message

We had a difficult time this year trying to keep our reputation as one of Victoria's best high school yearbooks, and I think we did a pretty good job. There was a great rush at the end to meet the final deadline but we made it with everyone doing their share.

I'd like to thank Sukey Johal, president of the photography club, and the rest of the club for their creative photos and patience. Without the help of these people, there would be no yearbook. I'd also like to extend my thanks to Art King, who designed the cover, Anita Morgan, for her great typing skills and Mr. Chan, who doesn't receive the much deserved recognition for the many hours of work he put into the completion of the yearbook (and for the 300 pictures he printed).

Despite minor flare-ups throughout the year (mostly from me), I think we all had fun putting the Camosun together and hope all who read it, appreciate the effort put into it.

School helps us to prepare for the coming years.

At school we learn many different talents and skills, which are both fun and educational. This school has a good reputation for our tasty food courses, our artistic art courses, and our mechanical shop courses. These courses teach us important life skills and prepare us for the working world.

"What's after 'I'?"

School's but an indication of things that have passed and things yet to come.

Our school has been around for many years and many students have attended it. Our building is a reminder of many lives and generations. Our attic is considered a relic and the graffiti is like a diary of the past. The Roper Gym has seen many victories and losses. Hopefully our school will be around for many, many more years to bring a good feeling and education into many more lives.
